COUNTY'S CASH IS MISSING!

Suicide Treasurer Is Short in His Accounts!

MARTINEZ, FEB. 8.—THE DISTRICT ATTORNEY ALVARADO STATED AT 2:15 O'CLOCK THIS AFTERNOON THAT THE LATE TREASURER WILEY WAS SHORT IN HIS ACCOUNTS. IT IS SAID THE SHORTAGE IS VERY LARGE.

MARTINEZ, Feb. 8.—The whole town here has been waiting with expectancy all day for the announcement from the officials as to whether or not the late treasurer, George A. Wiley, who committed suicide recently, was short in his accounts. Up to 2 o'clock this afternoon no announcement had been made to the public, as the count of the money had not been completed. This morning a committee consisting of the board of supervisors, the district attorney, a representative of the surety company, and a representative of the late treasurer's office, opened the vault and began the count of the money.

No outsider was permitted to enter the room, and the doors were barred against all intruders.

Every effort to secure any information before the final report could be made was turned down, and as a result, it was very difficult to ascertain whether or not there is a shortage.

There is much excitement in Martinez over the protracted visit of the committee to the treasurer's office, and all sorts of rumors are about around town.

FREDERICK L. KRAUSE DIES AFTER A BRIEF ILLNESS

Well-Known Business Man Had Been a Resident of Oakland for Twenty-Three Years.

Frederick L. Krause, a prominent attorney and searcher of records of this city, died at his home, 315 East Twentieth street, at 7 o'clock this morning, after an illness of two months.

Mr. Krause was fifty years of age and a native of Marysville.

For twenty-three years Mr. Krause had been a resident of this city and was well-known in business and fraternal circles. He was a member of Brooklyn lodge, F. and A. M., of the Knight Templars, Royal Arch, and was a thirty-second degree Scottish Rite Mason.

Mr. Krause is survived by a wife, Mrs. Orre Krause, and four children.

The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock under Masonic auspices.

INSANITY WILL NOT SAVE MURDERER FROM GALLOWS

Slayer of Sheriff Was Twice Committed to the Asylum, but Must Suffer Death Penalty.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 8.—An opinion was rendered in the Supreme Court today holding that two commitments to an insane asylum do not exempt a murderer from responsibility for his crime nor uphold his plea that at the time of the homicide he was insane.

This decision was rendered in the case of Frank Willard, who in 1905 shot and killed Sheriff Smith of Mendocino county. He had been arrested on the charge of insanity, was before the court and adjudged insane, when he suddenly leaped to his feet, ran from the court room declaring that he was not insane. The sheriff pursued and was killed.

Willard escaped to the mountains, was captured and immediately sent to the asylum, in which he had been confined on two prior occasions. After thirteen days' confinement he applied for a writ of habeas corpus, which was granted, and he was placed on trial for murder, convicted and given the death penalty. From this he appealed and the Supreme Court decision now is that even if he had periodical attacks of insanity he was responsible at the time of the homicide and must therefore suffer death by hanging.

The decision was written by Justice Lorigan and concurred in by Justices Shaw, Sloss, Henshaw, Angelotti and McFarland.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Mrs. Thaw testified that she told Harry Thaw that there were other girls who met a fate that was similar to her's through Stanford White.

NEW YORK, FEB. 8.—MRS. EVELYN THAW CONTINUED ON THE WITNESS STAND IN TODAY'S SESSION OF HER HUSBAND'S TRIAL. HER STORY BEGAN WITH THE PERIOD IMMEDIATELY FOLLOWING HER RETURN FROM EUROPE IN OCTOBER, 1903, AND WAS BROUGHT DOWN TO THE RETURN OF THE GIRL AND HER HUSBAND TO NEW YORK AFTER THEIR HONEYMOON DAYS IN 1905, WHEN SHE SAID STANFORD WHITE HAD CALLED TO HER UPON THE STREET AND ATTEMPTED TO SPEAK TO HER. MRS. THAW DECLARED THAT HARRY THAW HAD ACCUSED HER ONCE OF HAVING IMPROPER RELATIONS WITH MR. WHITE AFTER HER RETURN TO THE UNITED STATES BUT SHE HAD TOLD HIM "IT IS A LIE; I HAVE NOT." SHE SAID STANFORD WHITE HAD TRIED TO KISS HER AND HAD BEGGED HER TO COME TO SEE HIM ALONE, BUT SHE WOULD NOT. HE HAD THEN VISITED HER ON A PRETEXT THAT IT WAS A MATTER OF LIFE AND DEATH, AND HAD CONSPIRED WITH ABE HUMMEL TO PROCURE HER ASSISTANCE IN KEEPING HARRY THAW OUT OF NEW YORK AND AWAY FROM HER. MRS. THAW ALSO TOLD OF HER FRIENDLY RELATIONS WITH JACK BARRYMORE AND SAID HE ONCE PROPOSED TO MARRY HER.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw on the witness stand told of going to Hummel's office with Stanford White. The lawyer put in a paper "a lot of stuff about my being carried off by Harry Thaw against my will and a lot of stuff that was not true. I signed absolutely nothing in Mr. Hummel's office," said Mrs. Thaw. She said Harry accused her of having improper relations with White after her return from Europe. "I said it was a lie, I had not." Mrs. Thaw testified that she signed a paper in the Madison Square Garden which White said was of no significance and that the paper was afterward burned in Hummel's office. She said that White tried in vain many times to have her come to see him alone. "He cried and said I was not a human being." Recess was taken at 12:42 p. m. Mrs. Thaw testified that White made several attempts to renew friendship with her after her marriage to Thaw. She told her husband and he was very angry. Mrs. Thaw resumed the stand after the recess. She testified that one day in White's studio Jack Barrymore asked if she would marry him. She replied she did not know. Mr. Jerome objected this afternoon to the further "defamation being thrown on the dead, who have no chance to answer." Mr. Delmas had asked Mrs. Thaw if Thaw had told her the fate of other girls at the hands of this man White, when Jerome objected. Justice Fitzgerald announced that further competent evidence as to Thaw's insanity should be introduced before further testimony along today's line was taken. "We are ready to submit the proof," said Mr. Delmas. The line of examination was then changed and Mrs. Thaw was asked to identify more letters.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Great crowds besieged the criminal courts building today clamoring for admission to the room where it was expected Evelyn Thaw would continue the story of her life.

Care was taken that those whose business compelled their attendance had the first opportunity to enter the court room.

Then a number of those who had fought their way through the police lines to fill the room to its capacity were admitted.

There were not more than half a score of women among the crowd.

Justice Fitzgerald took his seat at 10:35 and Thaw was called to the bar. For the first time since the trial began the defendant's step had lost its spring. He entered hesitatingly and looked constantly about from left to right.

His pallid face broke into a faint smile as he recognized his brother, Edward Thaw, the only member of the family, in court.

Evelyn Thaw a Witness.

"Call Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw to the stand," said Mr. Delmas.

When she appeared and took her place in the witness chair Mrs. Thaw was dressed precisely as on yesterday.

MR. DELMAS' FEE IS LARGEST IN HISTORY

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Delphin M. Delmas and Henry McPike, counsel in the Thaw trial, who have announced that they will not return to San Francisco at the close of the Thaw trial, have taken for lease for a term of years a large suite of offices in the United States Realty Building, now in course of construction at Broadway and Cedar streets. Mr. McPike, in confirming the story of the lease, said:

"Yes, we have decided to remain in New York and will add to our already large library a complete set of Eastern reports."

Mr. Delmas' fee in the Thaw case, it has been stated, is one of the largest ever paid in a criminal case in the State of New York.

DETECTIVES SEEK FOR CHORUS GIRLS

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—In an effort to offset the effect of the testimony given by Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, yesterday, by attacks on her credibility, since he will have no opportunity of more direct refutation, the district attorney searched the city last night for chorus girls whose names he has had who knew of relations between Evelyn Nesbit and Stanford White. Under the leadership of Roundman Berry of Assistant District Attorney Caryan's office, and P. L. Berghel, a private detective, nine of the county detective staff were sent to the tenderloin last night and told to "bring in" the witnesses. Two hours after midnight three young women had been found and, under watch, spent the night at an uptown hotel.

Wife of Harry Thaw Tells How Dead Man Tried to Make Love to Her After Her Marriage.

"She was extremely pale, and her lips trembled as she replied to the attorney's first simple question. This was after Mr. Delmas had stated that before any oral testimony was taken he would continue to read the postscript of the last letter offered in evidence yesterday. The letter was addressed to Attorney Longfellow. The postscript was as follows:

"No one could have made me believe since I first saw her that she would show any one except he I should have bet every cent in the world three weeks ago to get money for fabulous presents for you; that after our trusting each other no hypnotism could make you forget all. I won't say but it is inexpressibly sad."

Mr. Delmas' first question to the witness was as to whether or not the "her" in the letter referred to the witness.

"Yes, sir."

Thaw Loves His Evelyn.

The letter continued:

"I have been asked to have nothing to do with you because you are a dangerous woman."

"He never lied to you."

"From the first time he saw you he wanted to do his best for you, to send you to school in Paris with your mother, or to send you both to school, and he never did anything not respectable."

"Yesterday he saw you believed everything false people told you as you did before, but as you are absolutely honest he would do you no harm ever for it, only he was sorry."

"He won't trouble you at all as he would do anything for you, but now you must get stronger without him."

"You said you would live anywhere, anyway he wished so he would have chaperoned you and had all the honor of your exclusive friendship, and lose nothing himself. Indeed, he wished to give up everything, to do all he could for you."

Not Desired As Mistress.

"I wish you would have spoken this morning through the telephone."

"To make you sure, I will explain. After I saw the poor ill-advised angel I was so sorry. She meant to do right, and was right had she only kept the purest things from polluted, lying, deceitful, money grasping, smooth tongued, hard-hearted, but soft speaking professional deceivers."

In the letter were also the words:

"If I wished Evelyn to become mistrepreneur but through them had been drawn a pencil.

"Did the 'he' in the letter refer to Mr. Thaw, and did he speak of himself thus in correspondence?" asked Mr. Delmas.

"Yes," replied the witness.

The letter and a magnifying glass were passed to the jurymen who examined the paper.

Money Is Sent To Miss Nesbit.

The next letter, which was written to Mr. Longfellow by Mr. Thaw while in Paris soon after he heard Evelyn Nesbit's story, said in part:

"Thank you for sending $50 and $20 and for White's telegram. I know a contented woman is happy. If you hear anything please cable, but I think it will be secret. I was not mistaken; being honest has finished me."

The next letter read by Mr. Delmas was written by Thaw after reaching New York. It read:

"Dear Longfellow: Enclosed find check. Sending a $10 bill (always clean) in first typewriting tomorrow. Send $50 to May. Thank you more than ever, which is a great deal. I have nothing to live for.—Yours, H. K. Thaw."

Declares She Is Hypnotized.

The next letter contained these words:

"Slept seven hours when—saw many Pittsburghers on the train. Mr. and Mrs. George Carnegie should be your loving sister and brother-in-law. I'm so glad the Duss dress is pretty for you. I wish I knew you would always wear it first for me. I have something important to tell you when I see you. I saw all through it."

"I believe you are hypnotized but I know it is not your fault and you mean no wrong. I want you to know I shall never hurt you. You know I never lied; I gave you my sacred word that by the hope that there is a heaven above, your pure soul shall go there. You have already been unlucky enough. You know I have always treated you with perfect respect."

The tone of the letter was most despondent and spoke of "one about to expire."

It continued:

Grieves Over Loss of Honor.

"You have lost all faith now when I've gone so broke to please you. You know I have always thought you the most good. I have always been honest and trustworthy with you."

"Let your heart feel that there is faith. You ought to know something now of what faith is—of my being faithful unto death, and beyond. You begged me not to, so I have seen no young ladies except by accident. You have in three weeks gotten a dangerous reputation. Also for telling scandal, true or false. Take back about Eleanor. How would you like without my answering—only I understand and therefore respect you the same. Say some one got you to say so, not some one you know, some stranger perhaps.

SKETCHES OF HARRY THAW AND HIS MOTHER, MRS. WILLIAM THAW

"They also say you are going to pieces and in six months you may be in the gutter, mentally, morally and dishonorably. Is Howard in school? How much does it cost? Your mother must trust her friends who robbed you of your birthright as a young lady, and made your father's name a byword. If only you had let me save you before you were sixteen."

Thaw Never Used Morphine.

Then follow these words, through which a pen was drawn:

"He never would dare—"

The letter continues:

"It would never have been told. I would just have acted as a friend, you know, and as a friend would have rejoiced and asked you nothing. The stories about morphine were false. I have not used any dope in my life. I never lie to you."

It was evident from the letter, which was sent to Mr. Longfellow to be delivered to Evelyn Nesbit, had been written subsequent to Thaw's interview with the girl at the Hotel Navarre after the return from Paris in 1903. In this interview the girl told him of the stories she had heard about him and said she could not see him alone. The letter, which in places was blurred and had to be read with a magnifying glass, went on:

"I have tried to forget you. You should have been at Joe's wedding."

Warned Against Drinking Champagne

Mrs. Thaw said the reference was to the wedding of Josiah Thaw. The letter went on:

"They would have seen your honesty and you would have been so respected. Your reputation as a beauty would have been greater over the world. You could have owned Pittsburgh—not in money but politically."

"Alone I can't settle down. Besides, I have no one worth doing for. Twice I had to leave the table so they could not see, but in some ways I am a bear at times—every other way I am more cheerful."

"I am not responsible now. You must know every story, including Dillingham's, is a fake except one day I saw all those letters—all sham—but I don't care a little brass."

"You know me better than anyone, and if you don't trust me and know I am true and unselfish compared to most men, then there is no hope for me. I am changed now, but not in truth, faithfulness or courage."

Questioning Of Mrs. Thaw.

This ended the letter reading and Mr. Delmas returned to the direct examination of Mrs. Thaw. "Did you tell Harry Thaw of an episode in your life connected with Stanford White and Abraham Hummel in New York between your return from Paris in 1903 until Christmas eve of that year?"

"No. I did not tell until later," replied the witness with perfect composure.

"Did you ever tell him?"

"Oh, yes."

"When did you arrive from Europe?"

"In October, 1903."

Mr. Jerome wanted to know what day of the month.

"It was near the end of October, I think, I am not certain."

"When did you tell Mr. Thaw?"

"It was early in 1904, in January."

"Please relate what you told Mr. Thaw."

"Oh, Look At Evelyn!"

"He asked me how I came to speak to Stanford White after my return from Europe. I told him I was driving down Fifth avenue one day in a hansom cab with my maid and we passed White."

"I heard him say, 'Oh, look at Evelyn.' A few days later I was called to the telephone and it was Mr. White. He said, 'My, but it is good to hear your voice again.' He said he wanted to come and see me. I told him I could not see him. He said it was very important that I should see him at once. He said he had much trouble with my family and must see me."

"I asked if my mother was ill. He said it was a matter of life and death, he could not tell me over the telephone. So he came to see me at the Hotel Savoy."

"When he came in he tried to kiss me, but I did not let him. He asked what was the matter. I told him to sit down and asked again if my mother was ill. He said no, and also began to talk about Harry Thaw. He told me that different actresses had told him I was in Europe with Harry Thaw. He said after a while that Harry Thaw took me to Europe and asked me why I went around with a man who took morphine."

"After that he came constantly to see me. He also sent people to me who told stories about Mr. Thaw, the stories I told him. I got very nervous, for I knew Mr. Thaw was coming over and I did not want to see him. I told Mr. White I did not want to see Mr. Thaw."

Evelyn Quarrels With Mother.

"One day Mr. White telephoned me that he was going to send a carriage for me, and I was going to go to Broadway and Nineteenth street. I did so, and White met me and got into the carriage. He said he was taking me to see Mr. Hummel, the greatest lawyer in New York, who would protect me from Mr. Thaw. He said I was not to be afraid of Mr. Hummel; he was a little man with a big bald head, warts on his face and was very ugly."

"When I got to Mr. Hummel's office Mr. White went away. Mr. Hummel asked me how I came to go to Europe with Mr. Thaw, and I told him that I did not; that I went with my mother and that Thaw followed. He asked me about my quarrel with my mother in London. I said it was a continuous quarrel between us, we simply could not get along. She wanted to come home to America, and I said she could come but I was going to stay there and return to the stage, but the doctor told me I could not dance for a year. He (Hummel) asked me all places where I went with Thaw."

Declares Thaw A "Bad Man."

"I told him all I could remember. He said I was a minor and that Thaw should have been more careful. He said he had a case in his office against Thaw, but the woman in the case was a very bad one, and he did not think the case was much good. Then he said Thaw was a very bad man and I must be protected from him. "Mr. White said I must leave everything in Mr. Hummel's hands. Then they sent for a stenographer and the lawyer said I must not interrupt him in what he was about to say. I was very nervous and excited and began to cry. They began to dictate a lot of stuff that I had been carried away by Harry Thaw against my will. I started to interrupt but the lawyer stopped me."

"They put in that I had been taken away from my mother, that I had been badly treated by Mr. Thaw. Then they sent the man out of the room."

Breach of Promise Suit.

"Several days later Mr. Hummel called me up and asked if I had my letters from Mr. Thaw. I said I did, but I could not see what that had to do with it. Mr. White also called up and said if I was not going to help in every way they could not protect me from Thaw. He said I must do just

It is no more than natural that I should take a great interest in the Kid Department. I tell you, a boy is one of the greatest pieces of machinery that was ever put together. Some of 'em have more wheels up in their heads than their fathers allowed for, out, generally speaking, they are a pretty good engine—steam up most of the time and going at full speed. If a man worked as hard as some boys do when they play, this old world would be the greatest star in the bunch. I wonder if the boys over on the other stars wear clothes like we do here, and how I pity them if they do, 'cause my Boss haven't any Heeseeman store (as yet) over on the planet Mars, but may be they will some day. MISS EMMA RUNTZLER

TERRIBLE ORDEAL OF WIFE HAS ONLY BEGUN

EVELYN NESBIT THAW MUST FOIL ATTACK OF STATE ON SAD STORY

Totters From the Courtroom After Her Narration, and Fears Are Felt Lest She Break Down Before She Has Finished Duty.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Public interest in the Thaw trial grows with its progress. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw's ordeal has only begun. Although she was on the witness stand practically all of yesterday's sessions, she had only brought her narrative down to the time when after repeatedly refusing to marry Thaw she had returned to the stage. This was in 1903.

Today she will take up the story where she left off last night, and it is quite probable that a great part of today's session, if not all of it, will be taken up with the continuation of her address. That Attorney Delmas of San Francisco, who is so skillfully conducting the defense, will attempt to take up the entire day with her direct examination, was the general opinion in the courtroom when adjournment was taken yesterday. If he can do this, the jury will be left for their two holidays with the story of the young wife, unmarred by cross-examination in their minds, and Mrs. Thaw will have two days to rest before the prosecution seeks to break down the favorable testimony developed by the defense.

LOOK UP WITNESSES.

It will also give District Attorney Jerome a chance to look up a number of witnesses whose names Mrs. Thaw whispered to him in telling her story yesterday. By the consent of both sides, these names were not told aloud in court. Although the story Mrs. Thaw told was simply the story as she told it to Thaw, and which is supposed to have unhinged his mind, Attorney Delmas announced that the defense would not take advantage of the law which would make it impossible for the district attorney to attack the truth of any statement in it, and would give the prosecution every opportunity to refute it.

TERRIBLE ORDEAL.

It is doubtful if any woman ever underwent a more terrible ordeal than did Evelyn Nesbit Thaw yesterday. This delicate, frail little woman, with the child-like face—she is only a few weeks over 22 years of age, began yesterday what is perhaps the most revolting story told in a courtroom. Today she will continue it, and then will come the worst ordeal of all, the cross-examination at the hands of District Attorney William Travers Jerome, than whom few men rank higher in this branch of trial work.

SHE WEPT BITTERLY.

The slender little woman, who was almost lost in the big witness chair, told her story in the main without breaking down, although the mental strain under which she was laboring was plainly marked, and her fresh, resonant voice which penetrated to every corner of the room, trembled with emotion. But when she reached the crucial part of her tale she wept bitterly, although she held up her head and let her tears fall unheeded, so earnest is she in her effort to tell, no matter at what cost to herself, everything that may be of value to the cause of the young defendant who loved her and made her his wife in spite of all.

THAW AFFECTED.

Thaw, when this part of the story was told, buried his face in his handkerchief, and his body shook with sobs.

While today's testimony will probably lack the dramatic and sensational features of yesterday, it will be no less important, for everything that has been told so far occurred before Thaw made Evelyn Nesbit his wife. The defense will try to show that the subsequent acts of the man whose life was taken among the acts and music of the roof garden, so inflamed the mind of the young husband that he became mentally unbalanced; that while in this condition he fired the shots that made him the instrument of providence in avenging the wrongs. This is the theory of the defense, and this Harry Thaw's wife must prove, if it is to be proved at all.

TOTTERS FROM COURT.

Whether Evelyn Nesbit Thaw can bear up under the strain is a question. When court adjourned last night the effect of the long day on the stand was plainly perceptible. She tottered as she left the courtroom, and rested her hand against the wall for support. But she had evidently nerved herself for the ordeal, and it is possible that her physical and mental fatigue will be overcome by her will power and her determination to hesitate at nothing that will in any way assist the man for whom she has already braved so much.

LOOKS LIKE CHILD.

As she appears in court Evelyn Nesbit Thaw does not even look her 22 years. She is dressed in a plain, dark-blue gown, with a long coat and wears a white linen collar. Her hat is dark and low in the crown, with a broad, soft brim, and is trimmed with a small bunch of violets. She wears her hair in a loose knot low on her neck, tied with a large black ribbon. Her face, which, until she took the stand, was unusually pale, is flushed. It is marked with delicate eyelashes and eyebrows. Her eyes are large and appealing, and her dark hair requires frequent brushing back from her eyes. Her slender figure is tense with excitement, and her voice is usually firm and clear. Her story has evidently been well rehearsed, for she tells it clearly and effectively. Her manner is sincere and apparently unaffected, and if Harry Thaw escapes the death-chair he will have his wife to thank for it.

CASE OF DECADE.

No court case that has ever been tried in New York has attracted the attention given to the Thaw trial. The prominence of the defendant and his victim, and the wide publicity given to the tragedy has made it the most talked-of case of the decade. More than fifty newspaper writers, including representatives of many European journals, are present at every session and a small army of policemen is required to keep order in the criminal courts building. Hundreds of people daily beset the police and the court officers for permission to enter the courtroom, but the room is small, and for every one who secures admission, hundreds are disappointed. These disappointed ones throng the corridors to get a glimpse of the prisoner or one of the women in the case until they are driven out by the police. The railings of the three upper galleries of the great stone court in the center of the building are crowded whenever there is a chance that Thaw may pass along the gallery on the second floor of the building on his way between the courtroom and the "bridge of sighs," which connects the criminal court building with the Tombs across the street.

WOMEN TURNED AWAY.

In the crowd that fills the room to overflowing at every session of the court there is a sprinkling of women, while hundreds more are turned away from the doors every day. These women wear their gayest attire, fight for the best seats in the room and squirm and fidget under marvelous millinery creations in trying to get a sight of Thaw or of the other notables in the courtroom.

CLARK'S BROTHER TAKES THE STAND

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 8.—The State Supreme Court room was again crowded to the doors today when Franklin K. Lane, interstate commerce commissioner, opened the second day's session of the inquiry here into the Harriman-Clark merger.

J. Ross Clark, brother of Senator Clark and director of the Salt Lake road, who was on the stand all day yesterday, took the witness chair again this morning. Mr. Clark testified briefly as to the shortage which, he said, had existed principally on the eastern connections of the Clark road and not on their own line. Thomas F. Gibson, former director, third vice-president and general counsel of the Clark road, was called to the stand.

ASKS DAMAGES FOR LACK OF WATER

Margaret Werner brought suit in the Superior Court this morning against Frank T. Schlotzhauer for $1000 damages, claimed to have been sustained as the result of the defendant shutting off the water supply in the lodging house at 906 Washington street, where the plaintiff rents rooms on the third upper floor. The water was turned off on the 2nd of last July and according to the complaint it has not been running since that time, which caused her considerable loss. There is a suit pending in the Superior Court at the present time over a similar matter in the same house in which Schlotzhauer is the plaintiff and T. Clancy, who formerly conducted the house, is the defendant.

Mr. Holman made the following statement to the Associated Press: "You can say for Mrs. Holman that the report is a malicious lie. She has not collapsed nor is she near that state. The report is absolutely and wilfully false."

OIL ON S. P. TRACKS CAUSES SMALL FIRE

BERKELEY, Feb. 8.—Crude oil that had dripped along the Southern Pacific track at Third and Delaware streets, in West Berkeley, caught fire this morning. The flames were communicated to a couple of passenger coaches, but no other damage was done than the scorching of the paint on the cars. An alarm was turned in from box 15 and the West Berkeley fire company responded. Some slight damage was done to a telegraph pole, but further danger in this quarter was averted by the use of two hand fire extinguishers.

NEW REALTY FIRM IS INCORPORATED

Articles of incorporation were filed this morning for the West Berkeley Development Company, which will transact a real estate business in the college town for a period of fifty years, with a capital stock of $200,000. The sum of $600 has been commonly subscribed by the original board of directors, composed of Fred E. Reed, F. C. Smith, H. D. Allen, J. A. Coulter and H. H. Johnson. Another Berkeley company was incorporated this morning. Articles of incorporation were filed for the East Shore Investment Company, with a capital stock of $100,000 for a term of fifty years. The directors, L. M. Van Meter, R. E. Bennett, W. G. Dodge, R. D. H. Van Meter and W. F. Robinson, have subscribed $25 capital to start the firm.

EUROPEAN PRESS CRITICISE THE METHODS USED AT THAW TRIAL

ROME, Feb. 6.—The Thaw trial is exciting more intense interest in Italy than any former case of the kind outside Europe. The leading newspapers, like the Corriere della Sera, of Milan, and Il Mattino, of Naples, have arranged for long cable dispatches direct from New York, where they sent special reporters to attend the trial. The Lombroso article in The World, summaries of which have been sent through agencies and circulated throughout the country, has added tremendously to public curiosity in the development of the case.

Rome's leading morning newspaper, the Messaggero, severely criticizes the arrangements for the selection of jurors, which it stigmatizes as "initial monstrosity, certain to pave the way toward a yet more monstrous verdict."

La Vita says: "Never before has a crime of passion so characteristically Italian in its origin and evolution occupied the attention of American civilization. For this reason the Thaw tragedy in its judicial phase will be watched with entrancing curiosity by the Italian public. The United States now offers humanity a spectacle which proves justice to be the same wretched fraud in every continent. While Anglo-Saxons rail at Italian judicial procedure, its pomp and ponderousness, here, we have the most democratic of countries wasting months compiling a charge-sheet, when the free confessions of the accused demanded only a few days thus spent. Citing a couple of hundred jurymen, a legion of alienist experts, lawyers, witnesses of both sexes, bids fair to rival the most deplorable scenes common in Italy.

"Indeed, with all the public stir this case is causing in phantasy of the star-striped race we seem to be transported into one of our own tattered towns amidst the babble of our fellow folk. Nor shall we be astounded if Roosevelt, instead of sending a message to Congress apropos the cause, should dash off a magazine article on the subject in the best Presidential prose, or if Mrs. Alice Longworth proceed amidst queenly honors to the assize court to grace the debates which,

instead of centering on the crime and the criminal or the problem of responsibility, will likely enough seek to discuss whether the victim did not really provoke his aggressor to madness. Deny it as you may, justice is equally as great in comedy in America as it is in Italy.

"Beautiful women and the irresistible impetus of hallowed brutality seem fated to fascinate and stir deeper emotions than the destruction of a Kingston by a cataclysm of nature."

The London Daily Mail also prints an editorial on the dilatoriness of the Thaw trial, headed, "Slow-footed Justice." It says: "Had Mr. White been shot in England Thaw would have come before a police magistrate the following day and his case would have been dealt with in a few hours at Old Bailey at the July session. Only a few days would thus have elapsed between the act and verdict of condemnation or acquittal. It is the freedom from technicalities and delays which American publicists most admire in English criminal law and its administration."

Despite the objections of strong partisans, Frank K. Mott was placed at the head of the Democratic ticket by the city convention held last night at Germania hall.

Some delegates wanted a straight Democratic ticket and preferred the office of mayor left blank, rather than place the name of a Republican at their head, especially after adopting the platform which "roasted" Roosevelt and the G. O. P., the party to which Mott belongs.

For a time the discussion on nominating Mott grew quite warm, and A. F. Bush of the Second ward demanded that the Republican ticket be substituted, if no Democratic candidates.

When the vote was called the eyes stood high, and Chairman R. M. Fitzgerald declared Mott the nominee.

CONVENTION CALLED.

William White, chairman of the Democratic city central committee, called the convention to order at 8:25. Robert M. Fitzgerald was the unanimous choice of the delegates to fill the position of chairman of the convention.

Hiram Luttrell was elected secretary. "SAYS HE IS A HOOD," said the newly elected chairman, "to take this position, for so often before I have been a hood to the Democratic party, and I think it time I was retiring to the background."

AS NEVER BEFORE.

"Oakland is on the threshold of prosperity as it never before," continued Mr. Fitzgerald after the applause from his first remark. "Her interests have been well provided for in the decision of the higher court. She should now keep what was given away in the past."

NO CITY AS OAKLAND.

"There is no city as grand as Oakland. It is the one city you can look over from its hills and see out to sea through such a waterway. It has long been neglected for the want of homes and factories. It was apparently hemmed in and there was no way out. On one line a railroad could not switch to another line. But now we have a right waterway and exit from the city front to the proper waters of San Francisco bay."

"It does not reflect on one party or the other, but it is an aid as I can see and I hope to nominate the mayor for the next two years who has been at the city's head to bring about all these great advantages for Greater Oakland. It will be the man who we can trust to spend the bonds and taxes. It is our duty to select men to look out for our interests and serve the public with all the integrity and purpose."

"This will then be a city proper, and there will be no gross growing in our streets at the end of the term."

Chairman Fitzgerald's remarks were heartily received by the convention, and everyone seemed to be in favor of the talk for the betterment of Oakland.

COMMITTEES.

The following committees were appointed and adjourned for fifteen minutes until they submitted reports:

Committee on resolutions and platform—J. J. McDonald (chairman); S. Bachrach, P. Hickey, T. Arnew, A. B. Farber, A. B. Beninson and F. E. Dalton.

Committee on organization—A. B. Bond (chairman); A. Hershberg, M. J. O'Dea, A. Kretz, W. J. Murphy, J. H. Creggan and D. E. Barriere.

Committee on credentials—J. M. English (chairman); C. H. Abbott, J. C. Bullock, E. E. Layman, W. F. Price, W. V. Harrington and A. F. Bush.

LEAVES CONVENTION.

When the names of delegates from the Second ward, as approved by the committee on credentials, were read, I. Less arose and claimed that he was rightly elected, but that the election clerk had used fraud in ruling himself and three others from seats in the convention.

A motion was made to allow the disputed delegates a half a vote, but such action would disengage the regularly qualified delegates, so the matter stood as the committee reported.

Less became indignant and left the hall, avowing that he was a true Democrat, and did not care to sit at a Republican convention.

PLATFORM ATTACKS ROOSEVELT
John J. McDonald read the platform which was adopted by the convention. Some of the "planks" deal severe blows at President Roosevelt and hold up William Jennings Bryan as the greatest living exponent of popular rights.

The reference to the Nebraska brought forth hearty applause. The platform is as follows:

The Democratic party of the city of Oakland, in convention assembled, herewith makes the following declarations:

We believe that honesty and capability should be the only tests of fitness in public officials of a municipal government.

We favor the public ownership of all public utilities.

APPROVE BONDS.
Looking forward to the ultimate growth of our beautiful city, all improvements for its betterment should receive the earnest and enthusiastic approval of our citizens. Hence we heartily endorse every movement that places at a profit for the public good, and we congratulate our people upon the opportunity given to our city authorities for the purchase of land for parks, children's playgrounds and for all other utilities leading to the health, pleasure and comfort of the people.

ONE CITY AND COUNTY.
Believing that a consolidated city and county government would be for the best interests of the people, we heartily endorse the labors of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce and Merchants' Exchange respectively, in their efforts in that direction.

OPEN ROAD.
While welcoming all railroads to enter our city and have their terminal at our water front, we believe that no railroad should obtain a franchise without embodying in it an agreement to switch and transfer cars to all industries and consumers in the city of Oakland, whether the cars may come in on an opposition line of railroad or not.

WANT CLEAR UNDERSTANDING.
We urge that the water-rate litigation now pending before the United States Circuit Court be hastened, and the same brought to a speedy conclusion, to the end that the city may know what its rights in the matter are.

APPEAL HIGH TRIBUNAL.
We heartily applaud the decision of the United States Court of Appeals in restoring to the State the Oakland water front. This patrimony of the people should be so conserved as to be forever within our control, and we therefore pledge our candidates to use their best endeavors to further these improvements.

HIGHER WAGES FOR TUTORS.
We take especial pride in our splendid system of schools and their incomparable work. All departments are worthy of especial commendation, and we believe that the builders of the intellects and morals of our children should receive a compensation commensurate with the trying vocation and responsibilities.

NEW CITY HALL.
We declare in favor of the immediate improvement of our streets, and that a new city hall, adequate for the requirements of the business of the municipality, should be erected; and we therefore pledge our candidates to use their best endeavors to further these improvements.

OBJECT TO COOLIES.
We protest against people in other sections of the country forcing on the Pacific Coast against the will of its inhabitants, an alien immigration from the Orient antagonistic to the spirit of our institutions, our race aspirations and the social standards obtained among Caucasian peoples. We object to our labor system being debased and impoverished by the free admission of coolies from Japan, Korea and China; and declare that laws to keep the products of the labor of such coolies out of the country are inconsistent, and defeat their object entirely when the labor itself is admitted.

We protest against invasion of the constitutional right of the States to regulate their own domestic affairs and control the public schools maintained by State and local taxation.

ROOSEVELT'S INSULT TO US.
We protest against the President of the United States intimidating citizens of this republic at the behest of aliens residing here by suffering, at his message to congress, an unwarranted assumption of executive power and an insult to the people of this State.

We endorse the action of the San Francisco Board of Education in standing up for the principle of State sovereignty, and against an unauthorized exercise of Federal power.

BRYAN A CHAMPION.
We recognize William Jennings Bryan as the greatest living exponent of popular rights, the unswerving and unselfish champion of the interests of the plain people and the unyielding foe of special privileges and the greed of the predatory rich.

To him we extend our thanks and our faith, for at this hour he represents not only the highest party aspiration, but the loftiest national patriotism.

CALL FOR MAYOR.
The chairman called for nominations for mayor. Immediately there was a murmur to have the name for this office left blank, or nominate some Democrat.

William White, chairman of the central committee, got the floor and said: "For the past several years the city has been run properly and entirely satisfactorily. At a time when Oakland was in need of a man we had Mott in the office, and it is our duty to nominate and elect Frank K. Mott for the next mayor of Oakland."

MOTT WITH ROOSEVELT.
"It is hard indeed to get a Democrat to run for the office," said A. B. Beninson from the Second ward, "and I have no personal feeling against Mr. Mott, only I think the time has come when we should make a stand for ourselves."

"Was not the message of President Roosevelt referred to in that platform?" Mott stands with the president and his party. We are not doing right by adopting the resolutions in that platform tonight and at the same time give our nomination to Mayor Mott. Let us wait a few days and try to find some one of our own party to take the candidacy.

"This is the only time the people of this party can have the chance to rebuke President Roosevelt."

MOTT A WORTHY MAN.
Mr. White took the floor again and said: "In the last county convention I stated that so long as a good, worthy and honest man of the opposite party is the only choice when no Democrat will accept the nomination, why not let us do the best for our municipality?"

"The Republicans nominated John E. McElroy for city attorney. He has shown the Republicans that he is the best man for the office, so they did the right thing and gave him the nomination."

REQUIRE MOTT.
Delegate McKenna from the First ward said the ticket required a head that was able, fearless and honest, and that Mott has proven himself equal to the second term and that he (McKenna) took pleasure in seconding the nomination.

NOT PRINCIPLE.
A. F. Bush claimed in loud tones it was not party principle to have Mott and that he (Bush) was done with the Democrats if they could not leave the office of mayor blank on their ticket.

His motion was lost and Mott was placed on the ticket.

REMAINDER OF TICKET.
John E. McElroy thanked the convention in a few well-spoken words for the nomination of city attorney.

Frank C. Turner was the choice for city engineer, the other Republican nominees were endorsed, for city auditor, George C. Gross, and for city treasurer, Richard B. Ayer.

COUNCILMEN-AT-LARGE.
The names of George Fitzgerald, Eugene Staehler, Oliver Ellsworth, Dr. F. F. Jackson, E. H. Thurston Jr. and H. T. Burns were named for the nominations of councilmen-at-large. The four successful ones who will be on the ticket are Fitzgerald, Staehler, Jackson and Burns.

WARD COUNCILMEN.
The councilmen nominated by the convention are Alex McAdam, other Republicans.

First ward—A. H. Elliot, Second ward—John F. Mullens, Third ward—none; Fourth ward—B. H. Pendleton, Fifth ward—William Bacchus, Sixth ward—George E. Aitken from the Seventh ward.

SCHOOL DIRECTORS.
The school directors from the wards are as follows: First, none; Second, Dr. A. H. Pratt; Third, E. E. Crandell; Fourth, L. T. Stevenson; Fifth, F. M. Greenwood; Sixth, H. C. O'Connor; Seventh, James A. Plunkett.

The city central committee will meet today and fill the vacancies left in the ticket by the convention last night.

The committee is composed of two delegates from each precinct who are as follows: First ward, M. A. Fitzgerald and John H. Creggan; Second ward, J. E. McDonald and I. Cohen; Third ward, John J. McDonald and J. C. Bullock; Fourth ward, S. Bachrach and W. B. White; Fifth ward, R. M. Fitzgerald and J. M. English; Sixth ward, H. A. Luttrell and W. L. Price; Seventh ward, C. F. Kirk and A. Kretz.

MRS. SARAH CLIFFORD IS LAID TO REST

The funeral of the late Mrs. Sarah Clifford was held from her late residence, 835 Third street, yesterday. The Rev. Potter of the Union street church read the services. Many beautiful floral offerings were sent. Mrs. Clifford was survived by a husband and six children, four sons and two daughters, Samuel T. James, John M. and Joseph J. Clifford, and Mrs. Morcy Hoffmann and Mrs. Eliza Bates.

ESCAPED INJURY.
Mrs. J. W. Glass, of 540, Twenty-third street had a narrow escape last night from injury under the wheels of an automobile. A rubber tire driven by Frank D. Brigham, was going down Broadway, when Mrs. Glass attempted to cross the street and suddenly stepped back in front of the machine to avoid an express wagon. She was knocked down and her clothes torn, but otherwise she escaped injury.

TO LEAVE FOR NEVADA.
E. J. Stewart, the wealthy realty dealer leaves tonight for Nevada, where he has large mining interests, the claims being among the richest in that state. Mr. Stewart will be away about ten days.

MOTT HONORED BY NOMINATION

Municipal League Completes Work of Selecting Its Candidates.

The Municipal League met in adjourned meeting last evening to complete the work of selecting candidates who will receive the support of the league in the coming city election.

At a previous meeting the league made the following nominations: For Mayor—Frank K. Mott. For City Attorney—J. E. McElroy. For City Engineer—F. C. Turner. For City Treasurer—R. B. Ayer. For Auditor—George Gross.

Last evening Mayor Mott appeared before the convention and warmly thanked the delegates for the high honor they had conferred on him and for the expression of confidence in his administration contained in the unanimous nomination they had tendered him.

"This is to me," said the mayor, "a highly prized honor because it comes from men who are interested solely in the good government of the city. To my mind there is a vast difference between the parties that are manipulated in the interests of men who are not fit and organizations of this character. I feel grateful to you because I am the first man who has received a second nomination at the hands of this league."

Continuing, Mayor Mott promised to give to the office the best that there was in him.

In conclusion he said: "The reason the municipal government is not better is because citizens do not cast their ballots intelligently. Election day is the most important in the year to my mind."

The mayor's remarks were greeted with applause and the sentiment of the delegates was plainly for him.

Following this address the nomination of councilmen-at-large was proceeded with and councilmen-at-large were named as follows:

Oliver Ellsworth, F. M. Parcells, E. T. Thurston, Robert B. Gaylord and H. T. Burns.

The central committee of managers were on motion made the campaign committee.

First ward—Harold Everhardt. Some discussion was caused by the proposal of Everhardt's name. He was finally brought upon the platform and made an appeal for the support of the convention. When put to a vote but four opposed him.

Second ward—L. H. Elliot. Third ward—John F. Mullens. Fourth ward—Edwin Meese. Meese was given an ovation and a unanimous ratification, while the Fifth ward did the same for B. H. Pendleton.

In the Sixth ward William J. Bacchus failed to get the nomination and it was left with the managing committee to decide what action would be taken.

The nomination of J. W. Evans was ratified without a dissenting vote as councilman from the Seventh ward.

The following were nominated for the Board of Education:

Members at large—C. H. Redington, Dr. J. B. Wood, C. D. Rogers and A. L. Hannaford.

Councilmen by wards:

First ward—Dr. A. S. Kellog. Second ward—Dr. A. H. Pratt. Third ward—Dr. Myra Knox. Fourth ward—Louis P. Stevenson. Fifth ward—F. M. Greenwood. Sixth ward—Left to central committee of managers. The name of C. H. O'Connor was proposed by the Sixth ward delegation, but no action was taken.

Seventh ward—F. P. Cook. With the exception of the Sixth ward the nominees were ratified with clock-like precision.

For free library trustees:

The nomination committee reported that they could only find three names available. They were B. Kurtz, H. P. Carlton, J. A. Morrow.

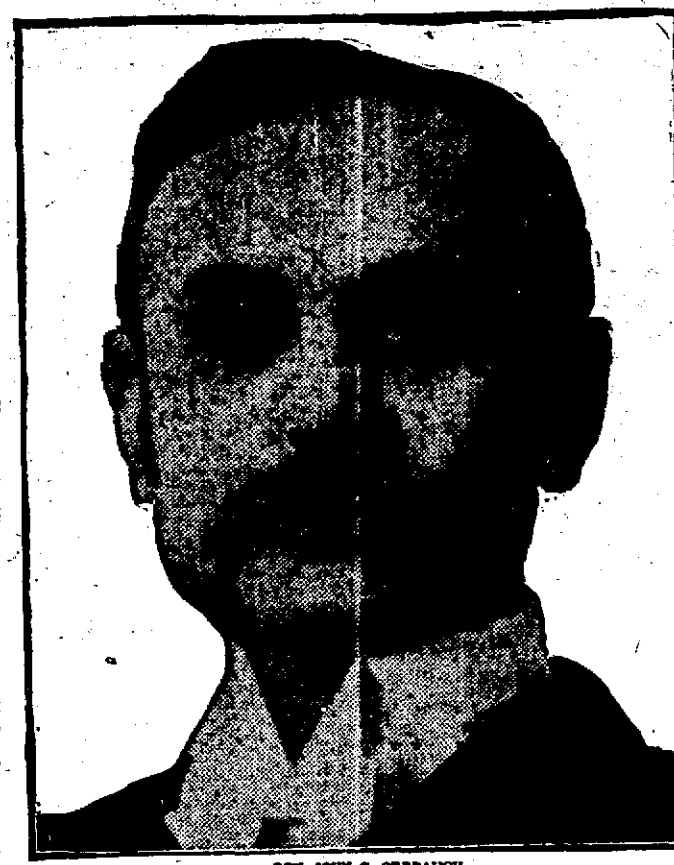

The names of B. S. Noyes and C. W. Childs were then suggested from the house.

Purity of election committee: W. G. Manual, J. T. Bell, John McVey, J. K. Moffitt, H. A. Powell.

Ward councilmen were then nominated. The league decided to support the following men:

Just before adjourning the resignation of J. W. Nelson, who received the nomination of auditor, was read and accepted. According to the letter unforsen events were responsible for this action. The choice of a new nominee was left with the managing board. A letter written by G. D. Aitken to the press stating that he would decline a nomination from the league for the position of councilman from the Seventh ward, notwithstanding the fact that his friends assured him he could have it, aroused the ire of the delegation of that ward. They indignantly repudiated the statement and went on record as saying he could not get the nomination even if he did want it.

A God-Given Medicine

Rev. John C. Orebaugh, a prominent clergyman and temperance advocate, says that DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKEY is a God-Given Medicine.

Thousands of temperance advocates and clergymen throughout the country agree with Dr. Orebaugh, and have the courage of their convictions, to recommend DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKEY as the greatest tonic stimulant and body-builder known to science.

"I have suffered from irregular appetite, diarrhoea, then constipation, abnormal temperature, often below normal; at times the memory is dull and I feel stupid. I have tried many treatments with no beneficial results. Pardon me to furthermore say that I have always been opposed to whiskey as a beverage, but have always believed that PURE whiskey used as a medicine was a God-Given one. I NEVER found PURE until I got 'DUFFY'S.' The best I could get seemed to increase my trouble and would burn in my stomach, but I find nothing disagreeable with DUFFY'S. It has done me a vast good and I trust others may use it through my recommendation." —(Rev.) JOHN C. OREBAUGH, Anderson, Ind., Oct., 2, 1906.

It is also allowed that seldom, if ever, have so many absolute novelty features been provided as Manager Rice has secured for this famous troupe, among which is a startling act of fun and frolic presented by Van and Wade.

Doesn't it stand to reason, that for perfect health, the human system must be kept pure and clean, inside as well as outside?

Then take Cascarets, the world-famous Bowel Medicine and system-cleaners, that will help you KEEP CLEAN INSIDE.

The body of man is the most perfect and delicate mechanism in existence, and the least OBSTRUCTION or accumulation of filth in any part of it, will make it hobble, move IRREGULARLY and SPASMODICALLY, and if not attended to promptly may stop the machine altogether.

Isn't that plain common sense to any person that has had any experience with machinery of human invention, from the sewing machine to the triple-expansion engine? All the parts,

Some Thaw Defense Testimony.

The testimony of Benjamin Boman, former stage-door keeper of the Madison Square Garden theater, will have to be taken by the jury for what it is worth. However improbable the tale may be inherently, it is a story difficult of successful contradiction. Unless Boman can be impeached or his testimony rebutted, his story is likely to cut an important figure in the case, although no sensible man would attach the slightest weight in a business transaction to such a yarn.

Boman's testimony illustrates how easy it is for a defense to be manufactured where the accused has unlimited money at his command, and has in his employ a corps of able and unscrupulous lawyers who are aided by a corps of even more unscrupulous private detectives. Boman tells of an alleged conversation he had with Stanford White two and one-half years prior to the murder of White by Harry Thaw. No one was present when this alleged conversation took place save the witness and White, and White is dead. That White frequently came in by the stage entrance of the theater, being favored and popular with the management, is well known, but that he should have exhibited a pistol and threatened the life of Thaw under the circumstances narrated, is incredible. That a police sergeant may be produced to swear that Boman told him of the alleged occurrence shortly after it took place does not make it less incredible, though it is a corroboration under the law of evidence. Police sergeants are open to the same seductions that influence men of the Boman type.

It is easy to hire witnesses to defame a man who is dead and unable to contradict his revilers or to produce evidence showing the falsity of the accusations brought against him. Therefore, the public is likely to be regaled with a good deal of the Boman sort of testimony before the Thaw case is over. The pity of it is that the task of saving such a worthless wretch as Thaw from the electric chair not only involves a prostitution of the legal profession and the corruption of witnesses, but covering the memory of a gifted and useful man with filth and undeserved obloquy. The woman Thaw married (she belongs to a familiar type) has told precisely the story the exigencies of the case demands and which will fit the testimony of witnesses of the Boman stripe to a nicety. She, too, has defiled the memory of the man she was instrumental in having murdered.

And Justice will be vindicated! Bah! The whole proceeding will be a sickening reproach to the modern judicial method of ascertaining the truth.

Reciprocity and the Sugar Trust.

Our trade relations with Cuba are improving, on paper at least, but the showing is more artificial than real. The balance is still heavily on the wrong side of the ledger, but the returns for 1906 show that while our exports to Cuba are increasing the imports from the island are declining—in money value at least. The value of the products imported from the island in 1906 was some $10,000,000 less than the value of the products imported in 1905. Our exports to the island rose a little over $2,000,000. However, the landing of American troops helped swell the demand for American goods, while the decline in the price of sugar resulting from increased production and the reduction in the American import duty largely accounts for the drop in the value of products imported from the island. While the trust is getting its sugar from Cuba cheaper, it has not reduced the price of refined sugar to American consumers. Hence the reciprocity treaty with Cuba makes the sugar trust the beneficiary of the remission of tariff duties formerly collected on raw sugar imported from Cuba. In other words, the government is giving up several millions a year of its revenue to the trust. That is the net result of the maudlin agitation based on the irrelevant and sentimental proposition that having freed Cuba from Spain it was our duty to make the island prosperous even at the expense of our own interests and pockets. All the organs of the sugar trust joined in this agitation, and the trust is now taking its reward by pocketing the remitted sugar duty.

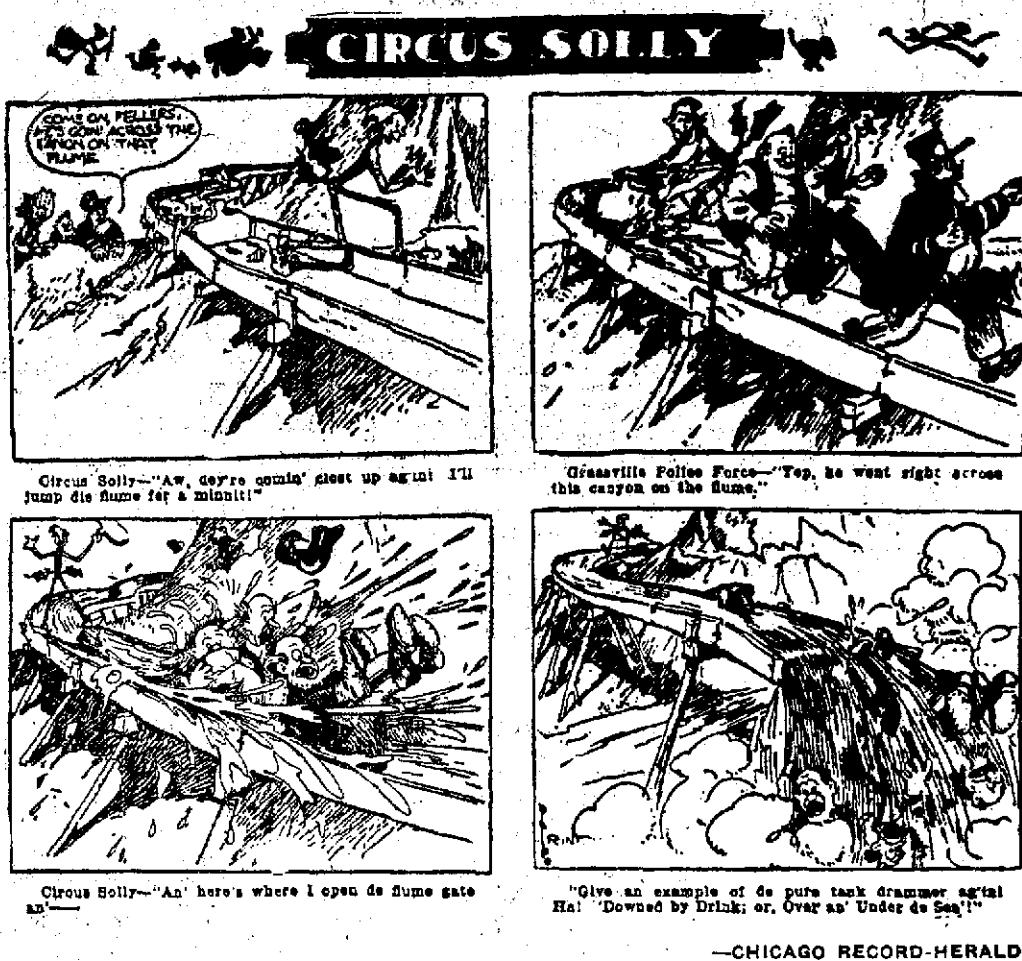

The suggestion of Mr. Sessions relative to the proposition to create a harbor commission for Oakland is worthy of thoughtful attention. The creation of a harbor commission would be premature at this time, and might interfere with the government plans for deepening the channel and dredging the upper basin. There is a likelihood of it involving the city in other difficulties which would harass us for years to come. The question of ownership and jurisdiction has yet to be threshed out in the Supreme Court of the United States, and we can well afford to await the final arbitration. In the meantime, Congress is getting ready to vote an appropriation for the improvement of the harbor. No action calculated to jeopardize that improvement should be taken. Besides, no action is necessary at this time, for it is not clear that a harbor commission could do anything at this time save add vexation to an already vexed situation.

The defense in the Thaw case appears to be as varied as it is ingenious. There may be said to be four of them. (1) Self-defense; (2) insanity; (3) jealousy inflamed by the seducer's pursuit of Thaw's wife; (4) vengeance for a wrong committed against a young girl. Although rather artistically strung together, the several defenses are inconsistent with each other; and all of them rest mainly upon statements made by Thaw and his wife or on evidence manufactured by them.

The Legislature will do a most unwise thing if it passes any act tending to obstruct the entrance into this State of railroads desiring to reach tidewater on the Pacific ocean. It should be the policy of California to encourage, not discourage, the building of competing railroads. It would be a good thing if all the great transcontinental systems would build into this State.

Senator Dryden of New Jersey announced that he withdrew from the contest for re-election "because of illness." The opposition in his own party must have made him sick. Dryden was a candidate till it became evident that he could not win. So the life insurance trust loses its ablest representative in the Senate.

Ben Tillman has learned that a joke is no joke when it twits on facts, and becomes a scandal when it is turned on the majority.

The Percival Road Improvement Bill

The Percival bill, now before the Legislature, providing for the creation of districts empowered to issue bonds for the construction of roads, bridges, boulevards, sewers, etc., should be amended in an important particular. The bill requires that all construction work shall be advertised and let to the lowest responsible bidder. This is good as far as it goes, but it would be materially bettered by an amendment empowering Boards of Supervisors to reject any and all bids and order the work done under direction of the County Surveyor, he being bound to keep the cost within the amount named in the lowest bid. That is the law now, and it should not be altered so as to place the public at the mercy of contractors. Mr. Percival's bill is an excellent one if amended as we have suggested.

The San Francisco carmen protest against being assaulted in the riotous demonstrations made against the United Railroads. They are right in saying they are not to blame for the shortcomings of the company, but many of them are to blame for treating passengers with rudeness and often with insult. Surly and insolent behavior and rude and unsatisfactory responses to questions naturally provoke indignation, and a considerable proportion of the carmen have brought popular opprobrium upon their own heads by a course of conduct that aggravates the anger provoked by a vile service.

A cablegram says the Countess Castellane can never regain her social position in Paris because of the enmity of the fashionable dames whose adulteries with her dissolute husband she exposed in her suit for divorce. A social position that is dependent upon the countenance and favor of strumpets is something no decent woman should prize. Still, it is hardly possible that even Parisian society has sunk so low as to take its law from women of exposed immorality.

An indignation meeting of colored people was recently held in San Antonio, Texas, to protest against Japanese being imported to take the places of colored house servants. It was stated that in one week fifty colored house servants were displaced by Japanese.

OUR TERRIBLE TONGUE.

You take a swim,
You say you've swum,
Your nails you trim,
But they're not trim;
And milk you skim
Is never skum.

When words you speak,
Those words are spoken;
But a nose you tweak
Is never twoken;
Nor can you seek
And say you've soken.

A top you spin,
The top is spun;
A hare you skin,
Yet 'tis not skun;
Nor can a grin
Be ever grun.

If we ever forget
Then we've forgotten;
But if we bet
We haven't gotten;
No house we let
Is ever lotten;
What we upset
Is not upsotten;
Now don't these prove
Our language is rotten?

REGARDING THE HARBOR OF OAKLAND

Editor TRIBUNE:

The recent decision in regard to the right of way of the Western Pacific Railway Company is of some considerable importance to the people of this city, but the matter should receive careful consideration and a final decision of the Supreme Court had before any action whatever be taken, either by the city of Oakland or the State of California. In appointing boards of Harbor Commissioners.

In January last Congress appropriated a certain sum of money for the immediate needs of our harbor, all of which is not available at the present time, nor is it necessary that it be, but it is my opinion that it is absolutely imperative, if the improvement of our harbor is to be considered, that the State refrain from creating a Board of Harbor Commissioners until we receive further necessary appropriations from the Government of the United States. As soon as any State Board of Harbor Commissioners be appointed we certainly will be unable to get any further appropriations from Congress and it is not unlikely that, if the State does not act with due deliberation, the recent plan of the United States Government for the improvement of our harbor will be abandoned and our much needed improvements lost.

In brief, the citizens of Oakland should oppose the creation of a Harbor Commission unless the bill creating it carry an appropriation for the widening and deepening of our channels of not less than one million dollars.

Respectfully submitted,
EDWARD C. SESSIONS, JR.

BOOST FOR GOOD STREETS IN OAKLAND

Editor TRIBUNE: It is very gratifying to an old-time resident of Oakland to witness the efforts you are making in your columns to boom dear old Oakland, and it is pleasing to hear and gaze upon the combined efforts of those unselfish, broad-minded and energetic citizens, the real estate dealers, to push Oakland to the front. But, dear TRIBUNE, while you and your able coadjutors are soaring in the clouds, boasting of Oakland's great superiority over all that is of the earth earthly, why don't you come down to mother earth and gaze upon Oakland's beautiful streets—take them all in all, may we never look upon their like again.

Mott has made a good mayor, but we never before had such streets. Ott has made a good street superintendent, but never before were Oakland's streets in the condition they have been for weeks. San Francisco has an excuse for her condition, but Oakland has none, and the mud through which we wade is enough to damn Oakland and all her hopes. Our taxes are high enough, but our public servants fail to do their duty when they permit our streets to become "mudways" instead of highways.

From the mud of the streets of Oakland, Good Lord deliver us.

ANDREW JACKSON DAVIS,
Oakland, Feb. 6, 1907.

PERPETUAL MOTION

As the man with the small black case passed down the avenue he was hailed by an excited individual who was leaning from an upper story window. "Come up here at once!" shouted the chap above, "I want you to attend my wife."

"But, my dear sir," replied the man with the black case under his arm, "I am not a doctor. I go around fixing machines."

"Well, that is just why I called you. My wife has been talking continuously for five hours and I want to see if you can stop her."

PRIVILEGED MEMBERS

There is a workingmen's club in the East End which is known as the Cork club. Each member has to carry about a cork with him and produce it whenever required; whether in the street, the workshop or at social gatherings. Those members who produce the cork due it with a bottle of beer attached to one end.—London Globe.

THREE KILLED BY TERRORIST

Russian Assassin Then Dies From Poisoned Bullet From His Own Pistol.

PENSEA, Russia, Feb. 8.—S. A. Alexandrovsky, governor of Pensea, was shot and killed by a young man as he was leaving the theater last night. In a desperate attempt to escape, the assassin also killed the assistant chief of police and a policeman and wounded the manager of the theater. Before the terrorist could be captured he shot himself, and during the night died in a hospital, without being identified. The bullets which he used in his revolver were poisoned.

M. Alexandrovsky, who was well known as chief commissioner of the Red Cross in the field during the war between Russia and Japan, had just stepped out of the door of the theater when a youth pushed his way through the crowd and shot him in the neck. He fell dead on the spot. The assistant chief of police, who was standing near the entrance, tried to draw his revolver, but was shot dead by the terrorist.

Seeing it was impossible to get through the crowds outside the building, the murderer dashed into the theater, firing wildly. The manager attempted to grapple with him, and the murderer fired at him, but the shot missed the manager and killed a policeman. In a second attempt to capture the assassin, the manager was severely wounded.

The terrorist fled through what he believed to be one of the exits, but found himself in the ladies' cloak room. An attendant, realizing the situation, pointed to some stairs as a means of escape, and as soon as the assassin disappeared the attendant locked the door behind him. The stairs, however, led to a loft, and the murderer subsequently was found there unconscious from a bullet wound, from which he died in the hospital.

NOT HELD FOR WIFE'S DEATH

Charles Brenner Gave Her
Poison, but Through Mistake.

The mistake of Chas. Brenner of 832 Fifty-third street in giving his young bride morphine capsules instead of quinine resulted in her death, and the coroner's jury in the inquest, held last night, decided that the young woman's demise had been accidental. The grief-stricken husband was exonerated from all blame.

On the stand last night, Brenner told of having gone to the closet Monday morning and obtaining a box of capsules, thinking to relieve his wife's headache. He asked Mrs. Brenner if that was the box she meant, and the answer was in the affirmative. The young woman took two of the capsules from the box, which was handed her by her husband. Darkness prevailed in the room at the time and the fatal mistake was not noticed. The quinine capsules had been left in a bureau drawer, and not in the closet, as had been supposed.

Mrs. Johanna Crosby, mother of the young bride, testified that she had always known the young couple to be happy, although they had had several quarrels, and that at one time Brenner had slapped his wife in the face. Mrs. Crosby stated that on Sunday evening her daughter had telephoned to her and complained of having a severe headache.

Drs. John Purvis and C. H. Walworth told of the discovery of morphine in Mrs. Brenner's system, and gave it as their opinion that she had died of poisoning.

$70,000 HOME IN CLAREMONT DISTRICT

Berkeley capitalist is about to build a $70,000 residence in the Claremont district. The plans for the structure, which have been prepared by Architect John Howard, are shown in the accompanying drawing. Work on the building will be started early in the spring.

FACES CHARGE OF GRAND LARCENY

Charged by George Gould, with having misappropriated $19,000 of the funds of W. H. Worden & Company to his own use, George A. Worden will appear in Police Court No. 2 on February 19 for arraignment on a charge of grand larceny. Worden and the treasurer of the company, Arthur J. Worden, are charged with having drawn $19,000 from the Central Bank and used the money for themselves.

ENGINE WHISTLES MUST KEEP SILENT

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 8.—To the long list of bills directed against the conduct of railroads in this State, Assemblyman Johnson of this city has added another, and this measure attacks the whistles of engines and the men who keep them, agitated in the neighborhood of the locomotive's home. He has introduced an old law on the subject which has been a dead letter for many years. This law did not contain any penalty and, as a consequence, there could be no punishment no matter how many violations should be committed. Johnson has accordingly made it a misdemeanor and prohibited the blowing of engine whistles within the city limits, save when it is necessary to signal for the hasty application of brakes.

MUST REPORT TO SUPERVISORS

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 8.—Assemblyman Vinol has introduced a bill intended to systematize the method of returning reports of work done for supervisors in road districts. The measure provides that no claim for labor performed on road work shall be allowed until the board of supervisors upon the same is accompanied by a report as to where the labor was performed, the amount of the same and the number of men and implements which were employed. This information is to be furnished on blanks especially supplied for the purpose.

A little pipe clay, dissolved in the water employed in washing linen, cleans the dirtiest clothes thoroughly, with a great saving of labor and soap. It will also improve the color of the linen, giving it, if used regularly, the appearance of having been bleached.

OLD FOLKS TESTIFY

The Aged and All Sons and Daughters of Aged People in Oakland Should be Interested.

For some time Mr. A. B. Specht of the Owl Drug Co. has been recommending to all aged people of Oakland his cod liver preparation, Vinol, to be the best strength creator in the world for old people. To all such the following will be of interest.

Mr. A. J. Baker of Evansville, Ind., writes: "There is no other medicine in the world equal to Vinol for elderly people. I would not take a thousand dollars for the good it has done me." Mrs. Sarah J. Windom of Chicago, Ill., writes: "Vinol is a Godsend to old people. I am 75 years old, but I feel active and well today thanks to the vitalizing effects of Vinol."

Mr. Joseph Banks, Decatur, Ill., writes: "I am in my 73rd year, and owing to the cod liver oil preparation, Vinol, I feel better and stronger than I have for years."

Vinol is not a patent medicine, but is a real cod liver preparation from which the useless, indigestible oil has been eliminated and tonic iron, a powerful constituent for the blood added.

Vinol tones up the digestive organs, makes rich, red blood, healthy body material, and sound, steady nerves. In this way it repairs worn tissue, checks the natural decline of the aged, builds up the run down, tired and debilitated, and never fails to replace weakness with strength.

NOTE—While we are sole agents for Vinol in Oakland, it is now for sale at the leading drug store in nearly every town and city in the country. Look for the Vinol agency in your town.

RAISE THE WAGES OF THE TRACTION EMPLOYEES

Street Car Company Makes a New Rate for the Conductors and Motormen.

Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employees of America, Division No. 132, and all Conductors and Motormen—Gentlemen: During the past year conditions of railway service have changed materially in Oakland and San Francisco. Our business has improved, our cost of living in some particulars has increased.

Notwithstanding we advanced your wages last October to the highest rate paid in the United States or elsewhere, we believe conditions warrant us in making another advance at this time. We appreciate the fidelity with which you have discharged your duties under exceptionally trying conditions and that you have gone forward with your work cheerfully and without grumbling and discontent.

We take pleasure, therefore, in announcing the following wage scale for conductors and motormen for a period of one year, effective March 1, 1930:

One year or less in service, 30 cents per hour.

STATE LABOR $3 PER DAY

Measure Establishes Minimum to Be in Force in All Cities and Towns.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE.)

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 8.—The assembly has placed itself on record as being in favor of paying liberal wages to laborers on public works of this State by the passage of the O'Brien bill, No. 30, in the assembly, fixing the minimum wage per day at three dollars. There was no unanimity of feeling, however, on the measure, because it was carried by a vote of only 27 to 17. The vote was preceded by a warm debate in which it was held by the opponents of the measure that the establishment by the legislature of a day wage for labor would be injurious to the workman. The proponents of the bill, however, declared that good wages for the laborer meant prosperity all along the line.

STETSON OPPOSES.

Among those who opposed the bill was Assemblyman Stetson of Oakland. He held, in the main, that labor was a commodity. There was no reason why the value of one commodity and not another should be established by law. Reckless increase in the wages of labor would retard the building of the State. When a laborer was worth $3 a day he ought to get it. If because of the treatment of men who had no humanity in their hearts they have been driven into organizations there was no reason why the State should do anything that would tend to the injury of them. The bill would impose upon the people and the people could not stand more than a certain amount of taxes.

Assemblyman Stetson opposed the bill. He said that it was fixing a set valuation on the work of a laborer and that that would soon be followed by an attempt to fix the wages of men working in the fields, and that was something that ought not to be thought of.

STIPULATION.

The wage referred to is to be paid for labor performed under the direction of any officer in the State acting in his official capacity or under the direction of a municipal corporation. A stipulation to this effect must be made a part of all contracts to which the State or any municipal corporation within the State is a party. The act does not apply to persons regularly employed in any public building in any city or county in this State. Of the Alameda county delegation Hans and Walsh voted for and Otis and Stetson against the bill.

RUNAWAY BOY IS FOUND BY POLICE

BERKELEY, Feb. 8.—A 14-year-old Irish lad, named Cornelius Cronin, who says he ran away from home in San Francisco, because his father whipped him, was found last night by Officer McCall at 3 o'clock this morning in one of the cars of the North Berkeley local. Young Cronin says that he left his home at 164 Hancock street, in San Francisco, four days ago, and paid his fare to Berkeley. After remaining in the State capital for a couple of days with his two small companions, Andrew Snowbridge and John Holmes, who had accompanied him, he beat his way back to the Oakland home. While he was away, he had track of his fellow runaway, but managed to get a free ride to Berkeley, where he finally fell into the hands of the police officers. The little fellow says that he has had enough of travel and will not run away from home any more.

TRUCE REIGNS IN CHINATOWN

Warring Factions Will Not Fight During the Coming Holidays.

Peace, now, hovers above Chinatown, and for the time being, at least, the inhabitants are engaged in other matters than anticipating another outbreak among the warring tong, the Hip Sing and Bing Gongs. The edict has gone forth from the head consul that hostilities must cease until after the Chinese holidays are over. Big Chung and San Jose Charley, representatives of the warring factions, have met with the police and have agreed upon an armistice of fifteen days. What will follow the cessation of the war remains to be seen, but it is believed that the holidays will have the effect of patching up the disagreements between the highlanders.

OAKLAND CLUB.
A bill is now before the legislature providing that the county shall pay $2400 a year as salary for a probation officer to be appointed by a board of seven representative citizens, three of whom shall be club women. The bill hangs fire at present because of the clause relative to who shall make the appointment. The club women are using their best efforts to get the bill through, as it now stands, without any amendment.

Before a large assemblage at the meeting of the Oakland club, preceding the musicale Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Gray made an interesting report on the past work of the juvenile probation officer and told of the present urgent need for such an officer. The Oakland club has, in the past, raised six hundred dollars a year to pay the salary of the probation officer. The increasing population of Oakland since last spring has inevitably brought its proportion of bad boys to add to the responsibilities of the courts. The work of the probation officer has grown to need all the time of one man, so that the salary of $500 is quite inadequate for the time exacted.

The Oakland club at present is in debt for a portion of last year's salary of the probation officer, which sum they hope to raise at the benefit theater party to be given at Idema Park Tuesday evening, February 12.

WINTER COTILLION.
The Alumni Association of the Oakland Polytechnic High School holds the last dance of its winter cotillion next Tuesday night, February 12, at Central hall.

As a fitting close to a very successful and enjoyable season, the last meeting is to be celebrated by a fancy dress ball, for which unusual preparations have been made.

The marriage of Miss Margaret Russell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Russell of Battle Mountain, Nevada, and Ernest Robert Newman of Nevada took place yesterday at the Hotel Touraine.

Mr. Newman is a prominent rancher near Battle Mountain and the Russells are also large land owners in that vicinity. Accompanied by her father, her brother, George Russell Jr., and sister Miss Ruth Russell, the bride was seen in this city for several weeks buying an elaborate trousseau. After an extensive wedding journey in the south, Mr. and Mrs. Newman will make their home in Nevada.

Watson Jr., Miss Anna and Miss Elizabeth Wilson, Mrs. J. Shepherd Jenks, Mrs. Howard Robbins, Mrs. Fred Adams and Miss Clara Conaway.

SKATING CLUB.

GIRL WIFE NEAR DEATH

Pathetic Ending to Romance of Mrs. Philip Driscoll, Married Last July.

BERKELEY, Feb. 8.—A pathetic sequel to the girlhood romance of Mrs. Philip Driscoll was made known to her friends in Berkeley today with the news that the young woman is critically ill at an Oakland sanitarium, where she is separated from the youth who eloped with her.

ELOPED LAST JULY.
Young Driscoll slipped away last July to San Rafael with Miss Pearl Owens, and after securing a license the pair were married in a church across the bay. The marriage was not announced until several months later. The girl's mother accepted the news with favor, but the bride's mother-in-law, Driscoll's mother, opposed the marriage firmly, and delivered an ultimatum to the effect that her son should not live with his wife.

DRISCOLL ILL.
Driscoll was in ill health and was temporarily forced to accede to his mother's demands. He left town shortly after, and kept in close touch with his bride through the mails. In the chaos that followed the attack of appendicitis the young bride lost her husband's address and is now unable to communicate with him. She is making an attempt to reach Driscoll, who is unaware of her serious illness, but has not succeeded.

THEME IS SOCIALISM AND ANARCHISM

BERKELEY, Feb. 8.—"Socialism and Anarchism" is to be the subject of discussion at a meeting of the Economics club of the university, which will be held next Monday night at the Atherton club, 2221 Dana street. A paper will be read by James E. Rogers.

PUPILS STUDY COUNTY PRODUCTS

More than one hundred pupils of the Lincoln school visited the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon and passed a half hour or more viewing the products of the county. They were accompanied by two teachers and showed keen interest in all that was explained to them as well as in the exhibit itself. They were anxious to learn and asked many questions which showed that they had made Alameda county a special study.

Do you know what a "lard stomach" is?

Indigestion promptly follows the use of lard as lard is made from hog-fat, and is greasy and indigestible. Some future day, when people are wiser and healthier, lard, for edible purposes, will be scarcely used; but, until then, we suppose people will continue to suffer from "lard stomachs."

The most perfect shortening in the world is Cottolene. It is a pure vegetable product, containing only pure, refined cotton seed oil and choice selected beef suet. It will make your food palatable, digestible, nourishing and healthful, which is more than any one can truthfully say of lard.

Cottolene is a clean product. Only the most modern and hygienic methods are employed in its manufacture. Its purity is your surety. The quality of Cottolene is always uniform and dependable.

Every good grocer sells Cottolene; and those who use it themselves, recommend it. It comes only in sealed, white pails, with a red label and band. In the center of the label is our trade mark—a steer's head in a cotton plant wreath. Do not accept a substitute. Cottolene is the original and only improvement upon lard as a shortening. It has no satisfactory substitute—except on paper.

Use one-third less. Cottolene, being richer than lard or cooking butter, one-third less is required. It is, therefore, economical.

COTTOLENE was granted a GRAND PRIZE (highest possible award) over all other cooking fats at the recent Louisiana Purchase Exposition, and food cooked with COTTOLENE another GRAND PRIZE.

"Home Help" a book of 300 choice recipes, edited by Mrs. Rorer, is yours for a 2 cent stamp, if you address The N. K. Fairbank Company, Chicago.

A NEW FEATURE—The patent air-tight top on this pail is for the purpose of keeping COTTOLENE clean, fresh and wholesome; it also prevents it from absorbing all disagreeable odors of the grocery, such as fish, oil, etc.

Continuation of our Phenomenally Successful SALE OF SUITS at

Values $20 to $30 $15.00 Values $20 to $30

With Several Hundred New Spring Suits Added

Haberdashery for Spring

Almost every train that comes rushing across the continent these days brings us something new for this department—shirts, cravats, hosiery, underwear, night garments, gloves, suspenders, handkerchiefs and the like.

We show the new ideas as fast as foreign and home style-makers announce the fashions—and our prices are always conspicuously reasonable.
Welcome—to look or buy.

There is no need for us to tell you that this sale is a success without a parallel in local clothing history—that the clever, shrewd and appreciative men of Oakland and neighboring cities have patronized this sale as they never patronized a sale before—that the bargains are worthy of the tremendous sensation they created. All this is town talk, and has been ever since the sale started. Seeing that the swift selling was rapidly depleting the stock, our Mr. M. J. Keller made a special trip to the eastern markets in search of extraordinary values in suits to sell at $15. He visited the leading clothing centers—found manufacturers more than ordinarily anxious to do business with this grandly growing store—found many with choice lots of suits that for one reason or another they were willing to sell at a sacrifice. Mr. Keller bought liberally, yet shrewdly, placing his orders where dollars counted most, and as the result about 700 NEW SPRING SUITS THAT HAVE NEVER BEEN OFFERED BEFORE WILL BE ADDED TO THE SALE TOMORROW. They are splendidly made in the very newest styles from fabrics that will be all the go this spring and summer, and every suit is worth $20, $22.50 or $25.

WOMAN'S DEATH BY FIRE SHROUDED IN MYSTERY

Body, Burned to a Crisp, Is Discovered in Her Pittsburg Home by Her Husband.

PITTSBURG, Feb. 8.—Albert Houck found the body of his wife lying on a table of her room burned to a crisp when he returned home from work. The police department and coroner are making a rigid investigation of the death, but so far have failed to reach a definite conclusion. Their first theory of accidental death was abandoned when it was discovered that nothing else in the room was burned, not even the table on which the woman was found. When the woman's husband arrived home, the doors were all locked, all the lights in the house were out, and he was compelled to climb through a cellar window.

Whether the woman met with foul play the police are reluctant to say, but considerable mystery surrounds the death.

CONRIED DECIDES TO WITHDRAW "SALOME"

Will Cancel Metropolitan Performances and Give the Opera in Another Playhouse.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—It is settled that there will be no further performances of "Salome" at the Metropolitan Opera House.

Then there will be a joint meeting of committees from the Metropolitan Opera and Real Estate Company and the Conried Metropolitan Opera Company at the office of G. G. Haven, for a final conference about the matter.

Although it will not be given in future at the Metropolitan, New Yorkers will still have an opportunity to hear the work. Mr. Conried will give it at the theater in New York most available for such an elaborate production. That explains the continued sale of tickets today.

That the owners of the Metropolitan Opera House intended a direct affront to Mr. Conried is believed by many who see in the extremely brief and brusque letter more than the mere expression of disapproval at the character of the opera.

WOMAN THREW A SHOE AT BURGLAR, WHO FLED

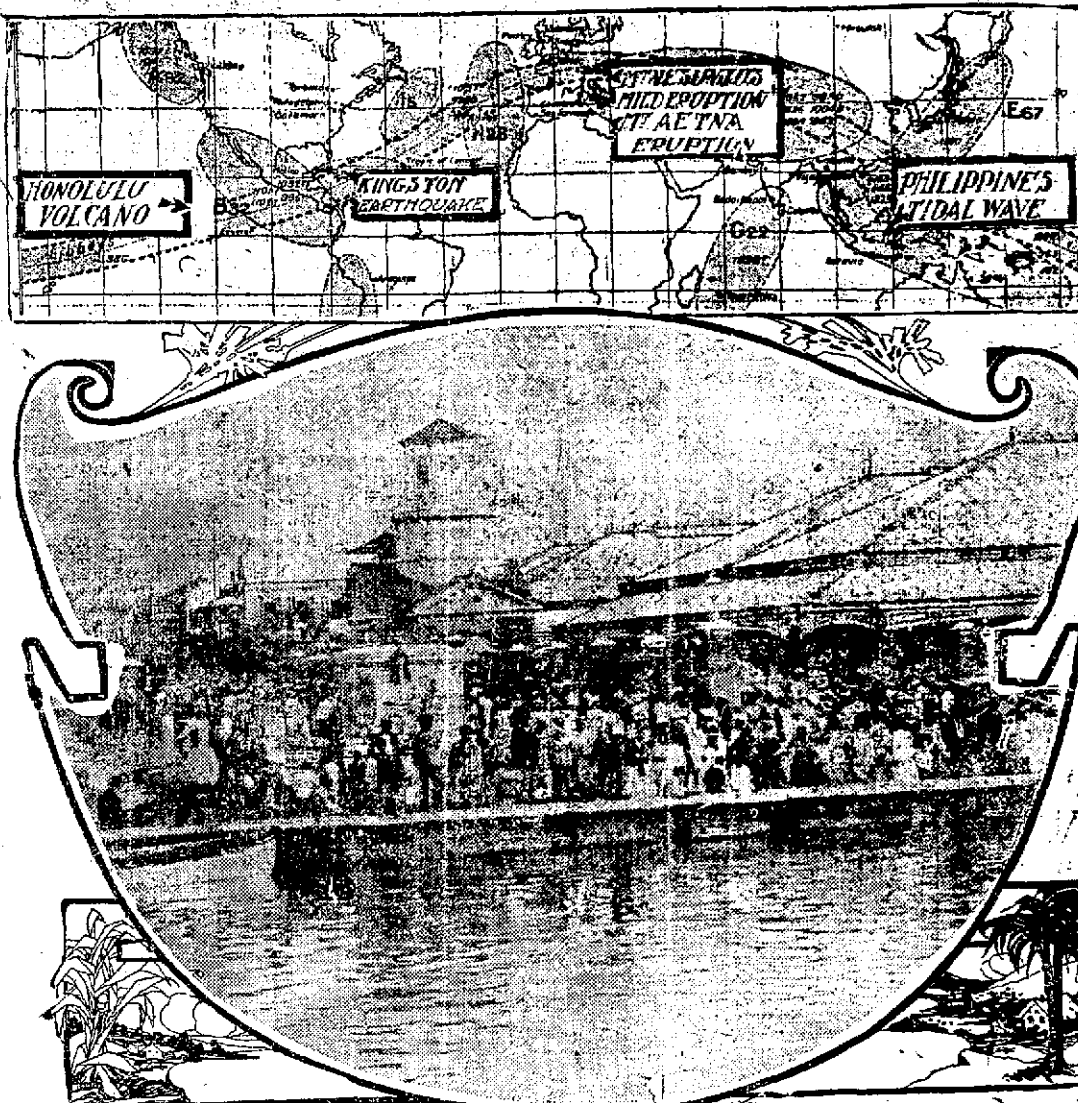

Thump Against Door With Pedal Foot-gear Was Too Much for Nerves of Nocturnal Visitor.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Feb. 8.—Last night the burglar selected the Williamsport's gentleman burglar is busy these nights. Friday night Mrs. John Dalley thought she heard a rat gnawing in a closet. She threw her shoe, which made a great thump against the closet door.

The "gnawing," it developed, was the sawing by the burglar of a first-floor window, but the thump of the shoe evidently frightened him away.

home of Mrs. Lydia Augruch, a wealthy widow living in the Gramplan suburban section. The entire household was away, and the intruder evidently spent the greater portion of the night in the house, as it was ransacked from top to bottom.

Money and a revolver were taken. A track in the snow across the lawn was the only clue left for the police.

The remarkable seismic disturbances of the past year gives added interest to the British Association official map of "Libby's Circle" of the earthquake belt drawn by Prof. Milne, printed at the top of this picture. The shaded portions indicate the regions most in danger from the settling of the earth's surface. Scientists fear that there will be other destructive earthquakes before the present cycle has passed. The picture below shows the famous Victoria Market in Kingston, one of the public institutions which was destroyed by the recent earthquake shock there.

COUNCIL NAMES A MAID TO POST OF CITY CLERK

Pennsylvania Girl Is Unanimously Elected Successor of Man Who Filled Position Twenty Years.

LOCK HAVEN, Pa., Feb. 8.—Members of the city council bestowed a deserved honor upon Miss Phoebe Dietz when they unanimously elected her city clerk, to fill the unexpired term of the late S. Miller McCormick.

She is not only well acquainted with the duties of the office, but is well qualified to fill the position in an acceptable manner. For fifteen years she has been in the office of the late S. M. McCormick, who was city clerk for nearly twenty years, and assisted him in the clerical duties of the office for many years. Since his death no one is so well acquainted with the business of the city as Miss Dietz. It is an unusual distinction for a woman to be elected to this important position, for the duties devolving upon a clerk of the city council are varied and require a person of capability to perform them satisfactorily. Miss Dietz is fully competent for the work, and is receiving congratulations over her unanimous election. Miss Dietz is the daughter of the late Fred Dietz, of this city, and makes her home with her mother and brother on East Church street. She is not only familiar with the business of the municipality, but is an expert stenographer and typewriter.

GIRL BEGS HER FATHER TO END LIFE WITH HIM

Filial Love of Daughter Drives Her to the Lake Front With Her Despondent Parent.

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—Edward P. Langworthy, attorney for William R. Wieboldt, the once wealthy merchant and board of trade operator, informed the police that his client, who had been missing for several days, had thrown himself into the lake. His daughter, who has been missing, was said by the attorney to be secluded with friends in this city.

It was asserted by the police that Wieboldt had set fire to a store which he operated in the northern part of the city, and they have been looking for him. According to Langworthy, Wieboldt jumped into Lake Michigan near Lincoln Park. His daughter, Martha, between whom and her father there existed a strong attachment, pleaded with her father to let her die with him, but he refused, and insisted that she live to defend his memory.

Wieboldt, before committing suicide, declared that he did not attempt to burn the store, but said that it was useless to attempt to live down the charge.

SECOND OF HER FAMILY TO WED A HOLLANDER

Miss Helma Geeske of Baltimore Becomes the Bride of Jan Schilthuis of Rotterdam.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 8.—Miss Helma Geeske, who became the bride of Jan Schilthuis, a wealthy business man of Rotterdam, is the second of her family to marry a foreigner. Her sister, Helen, about two years ago became the wife of Theodor Nelmeyer, also of Holland.

Mrs. Schilthuis is a charming young woman, and is a granddaughter of August Voelger, well known in business circles. After a brief wedding trip in this country she and her husband will sail for Rotterdam early next month.

Those who have had occasion to use glue extensively have found that frequently after the glue dries the article to which it has been applied, breaks, tears or springs off, and will be glad to know that if glycerine in the proportion of one part of glycerine to four parts of glue, be mixed with the glue the defect will entirely disappear.

For the small things in the wash on cold winter days use a soft wool twine line three or four yards long. Pin all these things on in the house and then pin the filled line, on the clothes-line outside. It will save cold fingers both in putting out the wash and in taking it in, as the small line is brought into the house before things are removed.

WOMEN OF A CIVIC CLUB TO FIGHT SWEATSHOPS

Legislature Will Be Asked to Aid Crusade Against Employers in Behalf of Humanity.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Feb. 6.—Subjects affecting the health and well-being of the entire community and measures aimed to improve citizenship and sanitary conditions were discussed at the annual meeting of the Civic Club, held at its headquarters, 1615 Walnut street, yesterday afternoon.

Among the most important improvements suggested were an ordinance to stop the removal of garbage by private collectors, and one providing for the separate collection of waste easily caught up by the winds and the prohibiting of householders from leaving rubbish of such a character exposed on sidewalks.

These measures were suggested by Mrs. J. L. G. Ferris, chairman of the Complaints Committee, who read an interesting report, showing the effective work done by the Civic Club during the last week in enforcing ordinances and bringing about a better administration of public offices.

Following Mrs. Ferris' report, Mrs. Owen Wister offered a resolution that the club devote particular attention to the disposal of papers and household waste.

The report of Mrs. Morris L. Cook on civic organization throughout the city told of the formation of branches and the initiation of many ward movements for better conditions.

The Department of Charities reported an investigation of sweatshops, and the draughting of a bill to be presented during the present session of Legislature regulating sweatshop work.

The Committee on Music has arranged for a people's concert, to be given in Kensington on February 15.

FLOWERS ARE SELECTED BY WOMAN FOR OWN GRAVE

"Pansies in Spring, Sweet Alyssum in Summer," Are the Directions She Gave in Her Will.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Rachel A. Elling, widow of Cornelius W. H. Elling, a Van Buren and member of one of the old Knickerbocker families whose ancestors founded what is now known as Ellingville, S. I., died in this city recently leaving an estate which is expected to prove valuable. It includes a large portion of Ellingville.

Mrs. Elling's will was offered for probate yesterday in the Surrogate's office and disclosed that she is survived by only two direct heirs, Augustus H. Van Buren, a brother, and Henrietta Van Buren Stevens, both of whom live at Middletown, N. Y. Collateral heirs include nephews and nieces.

Under the terms of the will, which bears date of May 22, 1905, Mrs. Elling bequeaths to the State Executive Committee of the Young Men's Christian Association of the State of New York $10,000. To the Silver Cross Day Nursery at No. 24 East One Hundred and Seventeenth street, Mrs. Elling gives $1,000.

A large portion of Mrs. Elling's will is devoted to instructions for her excocutors regarding the care of her burial plot in Woodlawn and those of her ancestors in Ulster County, New York. Woodlawn Cemetery receives $3,000 in trust, with directions "to apply the income therefrom to maintain the two graves therein with centres of ivy, bordered in spring with pansies, in the summer border with sweet alyssum or foliage plants," and to "decorating the graves with potted plants and otherwise as suitable to the season on Easter Sunday, Decoration Day, Oct. 24, and Christmas Day."

Mrs. Elling directs that she shall be buried beside her late husband, and that no other person than her late husband and herself shall ever be buried in the plot.

NOT ASKING FOR MUCH.

I do not want to be so rich that other men will sadly sigh
Or breathe out curses on me when they see me passing by;
I do not long to have my sway extend so far or be so great
That I may ne'er be free from care—let me be spared from such a fate!
But, candidly, I'd like to be just rich enough to feel at ease,
To play when I might wish to play, and toll sometimes—when I should please.

I do not wish to be so rich that slumps and panics must ensue
When I've a coated tongue or lie propped up in bed a day or two;
I do not long to be the one who gives to millions their commands
And in return therefore each day has some new trouble on his hands;
But, candidly, I wish that I were rich enough to cease to grieve
Or foolishly be bored o'er the monthly bills that I receive.

I do not long to be so rich that senators will lick my boots,
Or that I'll have to dodge about escaping from annoying suits;
I do not want to be so high, that every time I blink or yawn
Reporters will be asking why and wise conclusions will be drawn;
But, oh, it would be great to have enough to share life's luxuries
Without a care and with the right to work or play, as I should please.

FARE AND FAIR.

There's a scramble and a tussle,
And a fumbling and a bustle,
And her dainty kid-gloved fingers move so slow;
There's a cry of "Let me pay it,"
She is certain sure to say it.
Then the other maiden answers, "Dear me, no."
Then the laps are cluttered quick,
Hair pins, chewing gum (a stick),
While they fumble for the dime that's hidden there,
Samples, some of red and blue,
And of recipes a few,
Are the things we see when Molly pays the fare.

"Why, you paid the other day,"
Molly dear is heard to say.
And she fumbles in her pocketbook the while;
Then the gas bill comes in sight,
And a little mirror bright,
Followed quickly by a manicuring file.
"Later on there comes the time,"
When both maidens clutch a dime,
And two arms are waved ferociously in air;
But at last the battle ends,
And they part in peace as friends,
But I'll wager Molly didn't pay the fare.

Washington society is very much interested in the visit of the Countess von Hatzfeldt. She is a daughter of Viscount Aoki, the Japanese Ambassador to the United States, and is the wife of Count von Hatzfeldt, an officer in the Imperial Prussian Guard. The Countess is only half Japanese. Her distinguished father married the beautiful Baroness von Rabden, widow of a German cavalry officer. He was at that time Japanese minister to Berlin. His marriage was the first instance of a European woman of rank becoming the wife of an Oriental.

The news which the cable brings of the forgiveness by King Edward to William Waldorf Astor for the insults given by the expatriate to Captain Sir Archibald Berkeley Milne of the English navy and personal friend of His Majesty, has aroused much interest and comment. This picture shows Mrs. Waldorf Astor, bride of the heir to Cliveden, for whose sake King Edward has forgiven the head of the Astor family in England.

H. M. Howard Enters Demurrer
In Divorce Complaint in Court.

Horace V. Howard declared in a demurrer to his wife's divorce complaint that he receives a salary of only $75 a month and his property is worth but $650. Aameda real estate being property of his sister. He denied having called her a chippy and a 'chaser,' which were allegations in the sensational divorce complaint filed by Anna May Howard's father.

weeks ago Howard denied all the allegations in the complaint which stated that he threatened to kill her while in a state of intoxication. Judge Elsworth overruled the demurrer. The complaint stated that Howard had a salary of $1000 a month, owned real estate in Alameda valued at $3000 and $5000 on deposit in an Oakland bank. The complaints charged are said to have taken place during the couple's first week of married life at 1076 West Fourteenth street, Alameda. They were married December 4, 1946 in San Jose.

AFTERNOON SESSION OF THE HARRY THAW CASE

Session in Afternoon.

Mrs. Thaw on resuming the stand this afternoon said that when she told Stanford White of "Jack" Barrymore having invited her to a party he became very angry and said he would send her away to school in New Jersey.

Mrs. Thaw detailed her relations with Barrymore and her being sent to school.

"It all came about through a quarrel between Mr. White, my mother and myself over Mr. Barrymore. One afternoon on Madison Square Garden, Mr. Barrymore said to me, 'Evelyn, will you marry me?' I answered him and said 'I don't know.' Mr. White asked me if I would marry Barrymore and said: 'If kids like you get married, that would like to live out.'"

"Every day after that when I would meet my mother she would ask me if I intended to marry that little pup Barrymore," saying Mr. White was afraid I would.

"Mr. White then came to see me and said I would be very foolish to marry Mr. Barrymore, we would have nothing to live on, would probably quarrel and get a divorce. He also said Mr. Barrymore was a little bit crazy, that his father was in an asylum and he thought the whole family was touched. He was certain Mr. Barrymore would be crazy in a few years and for that reason said I ought not to marry him.

Jack Barrymore Offers Marriage.

"Mr. Barrymore asked me a second time if I would marry him, and again I said 'I don't know,' and he laughed. The upshot of the whole matter was that Mr. White came and said I ought to be sent to school, and I was."

At this stage of the trial one of the most dramatic features occurred. District Attorney Jerome made an earnest protest against "any further defamation of the dead."

Mr. Delmas had asked the witness: "After you told Mr. Thaw what happened between Stanford White and you in 1901, did you ever have any conversation with him in which he told you what happened to other girls who had met a similar fate at the hands of that man?"

"What man?" interrupted Mr. Jerome.

"Why, Stanford White," replied Mr. Delmas, in a loud tone. "Who else?"

Sensation in Courtroom.

"I appeal to your honor," said the district attorney, "that this has gone far enough. Are there no limits to which the defamation of the dead may go? The prosecution has no chance to controvert one word of this testimony and Stanford White is dead."

"Your honor," replied Mr. Delmas, "we contend that in proving the state of this man's mind, we have the undoubted right to introduce evidence which tends to show that fresh fuel was added to the fire in things the defendant heard from other sources. We will produce documentary evidence executed by Thaw himself showing his condition."

"I have no more desire to defame the dead than the living, and I believe my conduct of this examination has shown this. I have no desire to say one word against the memory of Stanford White that my duty does not compel me to say. My duty is to the living."

To this Mr. Jerome replied: "So far we have not the slightest evidence to show that the defendant was ever of unsound mind in his life. I submit that this is a matter which comes well within the discretion of the court. If there is evidence of the insanity of the defendant, it should be introduced now, before this loose tattle under the law we are not allowed to controvert."

Justice Fitzgerald said: "If the court has any discretion in this matter it is anxious to exercise it. The suggestion of the district attorney seems a good one. I would suggest that this is the proper time for the introduction of the evidence counsel refers to."

"Tenderloin Tales," He Says.

Mr. Delmas argued that the document was admissible because the pages were fastened together, with the signature on the last page. Mr. Jerome said this was not sufficient identification. Justice Fitzgerald stated that the identification was not complete, and Mr. Delmas then offered only the last page in evidence. Mr. Jerome again objected. Miss Pierce could not see the identity of the page.

Justice Fitzgerald ruled that as the will was to show the unsound mind of the defendant, it must positively be shown that it was in the same condition as when signed. He repeatedly asked Mr. Jerome's objections. Mr. Delmas, stating that he was not prepared to offer further evidence upon the will, then had Mrs. Thaw recalled and asked her again if Mr. Thaw had constantly discussed with her, up to June 23, 1906, the fate of other young girls "similar to your fate with Stanford White," and asked if in those discussions the defendant's manner was rational or irrational.

Mr. Jerome objected to the question, as leading and was sustained. "Did Mr. Thaw discuss with you the fate of any one?"

"Yes."

"Did he mention the names of one or more young girls?"

Here Mr. Jerome said he must again object, upon the ground that this testimony was permissible only as tending to prove insanity, and as yet there was no evidence that the defendant is or was insane. Mr. Jerome said there seemed to be the end of these tenderloin tales brought here to smudge the memory of him who is dead.

"We have not been showing the insanity of this defendant ever since yesterday morning, when we have been doing," asked Mr. Delmas.

Thaw's Will Is Exhibited.

Justice Fitzgerald then explained to the jury the law, which, in cases where insanity is pleaded as a defense, prevents the prosecution from controverting any statements which have been made to this effect, whether true or not.

Mr. Delmas then introduced a number of papers.

Among several handed to the witness to identify, was Harry K. Thaw's will, in which he is said to have left all his property to his wife.

Mrs. Thaw identified the handwriting of the defendant on the papers. Mr. Jerome went over them with the witness in whispers.

A full half hour was consumed in the examination of the papers, which finally were marked as exhibits.

Mrs. Thaw then was excused temporarily, to allow Miss Frances E. Pierce to be called to testify to her signature as a witness to the papers.

It developed from Miss Pierce's testimony that one of these papers was the will of Evelyn Thaw. Both wills were executed the day of Harry Thaw's marriage in Pittsburg.

Miss Pierce said on cross-examination she did not know whether all the matter in the wills was in them when she appended her name. She simply witnessed the signatures of Thaw and his wife.

"And this reference to Stanford White, you don't know whether it was in the paper at the time you signed it or not?" said Mr. Jerome.

"No, sir."

Mr. Jerome declared the wills had many interlineations, additions, etc., in various handwritings. He thought all these changes should be proved before the papers were received as evidence.

Thaw Case Is Adjourned.

"I contend that I could have objected yesterday," said Mr. Jerome, "but I did not do so then because I thought we would have to have some of this sort of testimony in; but I did not suppose we were going into the gossip of the tenderloin for several years. I know you can force it, Mr. Delmas, if you want to, but the court has the right to direct in which order it is put in."

"I admit that right in the court," replied Mr. Delmas, "but it was owing to the fact that no objection was made that there has been no better foundation made up to this time. As to the remarks of the learned district attorney regarding gossip of the tenderloin, I am unable to understand his meaning, but I suppose it refers to some disreputable section of the city. I can only say, sir, if you had accepted the will which this defendant signed upon the night of his wedding, and the codicil in his own hands, you would understand what an impression these stories made on his mind."

"The court has repeatedly told the jury that this is not 'gossip from the tenderloin' we have been putting in evidence, but the story of this girl related to her husband at the time he first asked her to become his wife, and the subsequent events in the life of these two young people."

"If the court feels it is necessary for us to lay a broader foundation we will proceed to do so as soon as possible. In the meantime, I will ask that adjournment now be taken until Monday morning."

The adjournment was ordered at 3:40.

Thaw's counsel stated that Mrs. Thaw will again take the stand on Monday.

HONESTY OF STUDENTS TO BE PUT TO THE TEST

No Fence Will Be Placed Around the Diamond at the University This Year.

BERKELEY, Feb. 8.—The honesty of the students of the State University is to be put to a severe test. The executive committee of the Associated Students has decided that no fence shall be erected around the baseball diamond this year. Every year since baseball games were first held on the campus the students at large, and even outsiders, have protested against the fence that during the baseball season lines the main approach to the University buildings. Down at Stanford they have adopted the plan of putting the students on their honor not to watch the games without buying admission tickets. Success has attended this innovation on the Stanford campus, and now the executive committee of the Associated Students of the State University has determined to make a similar test of the honor of the students at Berkeley college.

The following schedule of baseball games for this season has been announced:

February 3—Gallagher-Marsh.
February 18—St. Mary's.
February 19—Santa Clara.
Feb. 22—Alameda (State League).
March 2—St. Mary's.
March 6—St. Mary's.
March 9—Gallagher-Marsh.
March 15—Santa Clara.

In addition to the above, there will be games on March 18 and 23, with an all-star team, comprising Helmut, Nelson and other well-known professionals. The only games which will not be played on the campus are the game with Santa Clara on March 19, which will take place at Santa Clara, and two games with St. Mary's, which are not included in the schedule and which will probably be played in Oakland.

IMPROVERS MEET AT WEST END

ALAMEDA, Feb. 8.—The West End Improvement Club held a short meeting last night at the Wigwam, where the members talked for a few minutes on consolidation. No decided action was taken at the meeting last night, but it is expected the club will join with the North Side and Central clubs in forming one general body.

PURCHASES LAND IN THE SOUTH

ALAMEDA, Feb. 8.—C. A. Hooper, the wealthy lumber man whose home is in this city, has made another extensive purchase of land in the southern part of the State. He has bought the famous Boston ranch, in the El Cajon valley, about sixteen miles from San Diego. The ranch comprises about 1300 acres and is set out in oranges and grapes. The Boston ranch has been famous for many years because of the excellence of its products.

STUDENTS TO HAVE CONTROL

They Will Look After the Regattas in the Future—Good Outlook.

BERKELEY, Feb. 8.—By action taken at the meeting of the executive committee of the Associated Students of the University, Wednesday evening, hereafter regattas will be held under the control of the associated student body.

The races have been taken entirely from the control of the Boating Association and made a sport indirectly under the supervision and management of O. F. Snellett. Hereafter the races will be held under the name of the "University of California, Navy," and the sport will be controlled by a special manager, appointed by the graduate manager as his representative to prepare intercollegiate, class and other races.

Training quarters for the crews will be maintained on the Amador, and extensive improvements will be made at once, so that both the varsity and freshman candidates can be accommodated. The agreement made at the time of the purchase of the Amador, but the association's quarters will be entirely separated from the regatta quarters. The eighty which were purchased from Cornell, are on the way to California and will arrive about the end of February.

Coach Garnett for the past few days has had both the varsity and freshman candidates camped down on the water in the barges and four-oared shell, and by the end of the month will have them in readiness to work out in the eights. Sufficient time will intervene between the arrival of the eights and the intercollegiate races to have the crews in excellent form and accustomed to the use of the new shells.

At Wednesday's meeting, J. Tyssowski, '08, was appointed special manager under Snellett, to supervise the varsity regatta. Tyssowski has been secretary-treasurer of the Boating Association for the past year and at a recent meeting of the directors was elected president for the ensuing term.

BERKELEY, Feb. 8.—The action of Professor Parsons of the university faculty in tearing down an agricultural club poster which referred to President Wheeler as "Prexie," is condemned in no uncertain terms by J. Ray Gabbett, the editor of the college paper. The Californian suggests that a proreading committee be appointed to cut out any slang words or familiar titles in the wording of student posters that would shock faculty sensibilities. The editorial follows:

"A member of the faculty has seen fit to tear down a sign placed upon the bulletin board of South Hall because it referred to 'Prexie.' The prime object of the notice was to attract the attention of the members of college of

SOCIAL NEWS IN BERKELEY

Some Interesting Events in Our Adjoining City—Personal Notes.

BERKELEY, Feb. 8.—Over fifty people tried out yesterday for parts in the English Club's production, "The Little Clay Cart." Of this number about twenty-five have been retained as possible characters. Owing to the number of competitors and the slight nature of the test it is impossible to definitely assign parts at the present moment. Tomorrow at 11 o'clock in the Greek Theater a second attempt will be made to find suitable players. Only the first act will be dealt with and for the five male parts there are some ten men to select from. Early next week the other portions of the play will be taken in turn and it is hoped by this method to fit the right man in the right place.

The following will try out Saturday morning: W. A. Alderson, '09, G. L. Bell, '09, G. W. Bell, '07, T. E. Glazier, '09, S. J. Hum, '08, N. A. Richard, '09, D. L. Lander, '08, R. M. Sheridan, '09, and Misses Florence Schultz, '09, and Florence Weeks, '09.

Garnet Holme left last evening for Bakersfield, where he will lecture before the convention of the California Federation of Women's Clubs and the Bakersfield school. His subject will be "Stratford-on-Avon: Holme was brought up within a few miles of Shakespeare's birthplace and knows the little town intimately. He will return early Saturday morning so as to be on hand at the tryouts for the Sanskrit play.

PROFESSOR MOSES IS TO LECTURE

BERKELEY, Feb. 8.—Professor Henry Moses Stephens will deliver a lecture on Kipling's "Puck of Pook's Hill," in Siles Hall on Friday evening of this week at 8:15 p. m. The lecture will be given under the auspices of the ladies' auxiliary of the Presbyterian church.

In all stations of life, whose vigor and vitality may have been undermined and broken-down by overwork, exacting social duties, the too frequent bearing of children, or other causes, will find in the most potent, invigorating, restorative, strength-giver ever devised for their special benefit. Nursing mothers will find it especially valuable in sustaining their strength and promoting an abundant nourishment for the child. Expectant mothers too will find it a priceless boon to prepare the system for baby's coming and to render the ordeal comparatively easy and painless.

It can do no harm in any state, or condition of the female system.

Delicate, nervous, weak women, who suffer from frequent headaches, backache, dragging-down distress low down in the abdomen, or from painful or irregular monthly periods, gnawing or distressed sensation in stomach, dizzy or faint spells, see imaginary specks or spots floating before eyes, have disagreeable, pelvic catarrhal drain, ulceration, prolapsus, anteversion, retroversion, or other displacements of womanly organs from weakness of parts, will, whether they experience many or only a few of the above symptoms, find relief and, generally, a permanent cure, by using faithfully and fairly persistently Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

This world-famed specific for woman's weaknesses and peculiar ailments is a pure glyceric extract of the choicest native, medicinal roots without a drop of alcohol in its make-up. All its ingredients are printed in plain English on its bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. Dr. Pierce thus invites the

Dr. Pierce's Lotion Tablets and Antiseptic Suppositories may also be used with great advantage conjointly with the use of the "Favorite Prescription" in all cases of ulceration, and in pelvic catarrh. They cost only 25 cents a box each, at drug stores or sent by mail, post-paid on receipt of price in stamps by Dr. Pierce whose address is given below.

If you want to know more about the composition and professional endorsement of the "Favorite Prescription," send postal card request to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for his free booklet treating of same.

OLD SORES FED AND KEPT OPEN BY IMPURE BLOOD

A great many people have an idea that old sores exist merely because of a diseased condition of the flesh where the ulcer is located. They patiently apply salves, powders, plasters and other external applications, but in spite of all such treatment the place refuses to heal. Whenever a sore or ulcer does not heal readily the blood is at fault; this vital fluid is filled with impurities and poisons which are constantly being discharged into the place, feeding it with noxious matter, which makes it impossible for the sore to heal. Old sores may be the result of an inherited blood taint, or the effects of a long spell of sickness, or again the circulation may be contaminated with the collections of refuse matter which the different members have failed to expel through the channels of nature. Whatever the cause the blood becomes steeped in poison and a cut, bruise, scratch or other wound often develops into a sore, fed and kept up by these impurities, causing it to eat deeper into the surrounding tissue, inflaming, festering and causing pain. External applications can only keep the sore clean; they cannot cure the trouble because they do not reach the blood. S. S. S. cures Old Sores by going to the very bottom of the trouble, driving out the impurities and poisons and purifying and building up the entire circulation. When S. S. S. has removed the cause the blood becomes rich and healthy, the sore begins to heal, new flesh is formed, the place scabs over and is soon permanently healed. THIS COUPON IS NOT GOOD AFTER FEB. 25, 1907.

TRIBUNE SUBSCRIBERS who fail to receive their paper before six o'clock every evening should telephone to the Circulation Department, Oakland 523, and the Carrier will be notified to deliver copy immediately.

THOUSANDS OF VOTES IN TRIBUNE CONTEST

Contestants Are Working Hard and the Leaders Will Have to Tally Many Ballots.

From the number of contestants who call at the office each day with subscriptions it is convincing that never has there been a contest on any paper in which the public has taken as much interest as they do on the TRIBUNE'S popularity contest. Contestants are working with energy and vim and from this outlook now the winners will have to tally many thousand votes.

ONE PATRON GOSE LIMIT.
At the beginning of the contest a candidate did not try to obtain a subscription from anyone who had already voted for another contestant. Now it is different, for as the TRIBUNE is carried to nearly every house in the bay cities subscribers are having several favorites whom they work for, one patron going the limit by subscribing in favor of eleven different candidates in as many districts. So the contestants should not become discouraged.

MAKES BIG CHANGE.
The special offer of two thousand votes has changed the face of the contest doing greatly for many candidates who were a little discouraged. Took the contest manager's advice and worked early and late to improve that opportunity. The effect is such that now instead of two or three in each district having a chance to win, there are five or six and in some districts more where only a few votes separate the "top-mothers."

RESERVE VOTES.
Just a word about the reserve of votes you are holding out for the last day. Have you got enough? If competition is strong in your district, as it is in nearly every one, a few hundred votes held back will not be sufficient.

Or if you want that fine lot, magnificent piano or watch, you had better get up a little earlier in the morning and make every minute count until the closing hour, 10 p. m. February 25.

GRASS GROWS ON OAKLAND HILLS

But Not Under the Feet of the Committee of Progress of This City.

Oakland's Committee of Progress is getting busy, sure enough. They have bought out Ye Liberty Theater, on Broadway, near Fourteenth street (for one night, Tuesday, February 12), and will hold their first big benefit. The fund created will be used by the committee in filling up the holes in the streets from the bay to Nineteenth street, and from Harrison to Clay streets inclusive. If this fund only fills up a few holes, then another fund will be created, until the entire city of Oakland has good streets. The committee will buy their own material.

pay their own help, but do the work under the supervision of the Street Superintendent and the Board of Public Works. But, you can safely count upon one thing: any man who helps do this work will work a full day and earn his money, for the Committee of Progress are the inspectors, and the committee respectfully asks that the Board of Public Works will kindly stand ready to meet the Street Department of the Committee of Progress promptly on time 10 o'clock a. m. Wednesdays. Time is very valuable, and the committee will be "Johnny on the spot" when it comes to doing things for the good of "Dear Old Oakland." soon to be known as the New and Greater Oakland. Other attractions are under way, and the public can rest assured of one thing: They will get their money's worth both ways, for every cent they part with for the use of this committee will be spent to improve Oakland and really goes back into their own pockets.

NOTHING UNUSUAL.
Gunner—I am shocked, old chap.
Gunner—What about?
Gunner—Why, I hear that you are going to marry a girl of the alley.
Gunner—Certainly she is a girl of the alley. She is the champion woman boxer of the state.

YOUNG WIFE WAS HOUNDED BY WHITE

what Mr Hummel said

"I made the letters up in a bundle and took them to Mr Hummel's office. He said he did not want to read them and did not care what they contained. He asked, however, if they were love letters, and I said yes. He said he just wanted to hold them over Harry Thaw's head."

"Then he asked me why I did not sue Harry Thaw for breach of promise. I said that was absurd for if there had been any breach of promise it was on my part. He said that did not matter."

"Mr Hummel said a breach of promise suit would be a fine advertisement for me. I told him I did not care for that kind of advertising. He told me an English Duke had once been sued by an actress for breach of promise. He declared he could easily win a suit for me. I did not want to sue anybody. That made Mr Hummel very mad and he told me I was foolish."

Blackmailer, Says Thaw.

What more did you tell Mr Thaw?" suggested Mr Delmas to give the girl a breaking spell.

"Mr Thaw asked me if I had signed anything in Mr Hummel's office and I said I had not. He said that was funny, for if they wanted to cause trouble I must have signed something. I said I had signed nothing in Mr Hummel's office. Mr Thaw was very much agitated. He said Hummel was a blackmailer and he said I think, that there was something bad in the air, and he impressed me that he was going to see Mr Longtelow, his lawyer."

Mrs Thaw testified to going to her own lawyer and relating her experiences with Hummel.

"My lawyer told me that Hummel was a shyster."

A laugh went around the room. "Mr Thaw told me I had no business to speak again with Stanford White. He accused me of having improper relations with Mr White since I came back from Europe and I said that it was a lie. He said it would look to people as if I was a blackmailer by going to Hummel's office."

Carried Up And Down Stairs.

"Did you tell of another incident?"

"Yes. I told him of one day when White came to the Hotel Navarre, and he was terribly mad. 'My child, he said, What did you tell Mr Hummel about me?' I said I had not said anything and then Mr White said I must have told Hummel because Hummel had just squeezed one thousand dollars out of him and he was not going to stand another thousand."

The witness said that she did not know what she had signed when she signed the paper at the request of Mr White in his office in Madison Square Garden.

"I called Mr White on the telephone after I had talked to Mr Thaw and I demanded of Mr White that he put the paper in the fire. He said he did not have it, but that it was in Mr Hummel's office. He told me not to talk the matter over on the telephone. He said he would meet me on the corner and he went to Mr Hummel's office. He showed me the paper and my signature and asked if it was mine and I said it was. Then they burned the paper."

"How did Mr Thaw treat you from that time until he proposed marriage?"

Great Love For Harry Thaw.

"He treated me nicely, carried me up and downstairs when I was sick and brought me flowers."

After her marriage, the witness said, they took a trip through the west. While in Pittsburgh, she said, she lived at the home of her husband's mother.

She related how she had refused to marry Thaw before she finally did.

"What excuse did you give him for not marrying him?"

"It was because of my reputation. I did not want to separate him from his family. I knew it would be a good thing for me to marry him, but it would not be for him. It was because I loved him that I would not marry him. I did not love him much. I might have been anxious to marry him."

Mr Delmas got the witness to relate how she met some of the Thaw family in Europe.

There was something which led you to change your mind in regard to marrying Thaw?" asked Mr Delmas.

"Yes."

"You were given to believe that his family would receive you as his wife?"

"Yes."

"Did you meet Mrs Thaw, his mother, in New York?"

"I did."

"After marriage did you visit New York from Pittsburgh?"

"We did."

White Follows Evelyn Nesbit.

"Did you tell your husband of the efforts of Stanford White to renew your friendship?"

"I did."

What was the first occurrence you told your husband about?"

"I did, and he said it was not right for me to see him and made me promise that if I ever met White again I would tell him about it."

"Did you tell him?"

"I did."

"When did you see Mr. White again?"

"It was on Fifth avenue one day when I was riding to Dr Delavan's to have my throat treated. I was in a hansom and Mr. White was also riding in a hansom. When I got home I told Mr. Thaw that I passed Mr. White. He did not attempt to speak to me, but stared hard at me. I looked away."

"When I got down to the doctor's office I found Mr. White coming there. I ran up the steps, but was excited and nervous and I told the door porter that I would come at another time, so I ran back down, jumped into my hansom, looked neither to the right nor to the left and told the driver to go back to the Lorraine as quickly as ever he could."

"How did Mr Thaw act when you told him of this?"

"Oh, he was always very excited when I told him of meeting with Mr White. He bit his nails and looked excited."

"Did you ever tell Mr Thaw how you came to be sent to school at Pompton N J and if so relate it to the jury, and also wherein the name of Jack Barrymore entered into the discussion and tell what your relations to Barrymore were."

"I met Mr. Barrymore when I was with the Wild Rose company. Mr. White gave a dinner to a whole lot of friends. I was asked to attend and I went there and met his friends at the party. Mr. Barrymore was there."

At this point a recess was taken.

Justice Fitzgerald said that because of the probable length of the trial, he was disposed to continue court on Tuesday, Lincoln's birthday, although it is a legal holiday.

Mr. Delmas said the defense would agree.

HOOGLIGAN CLEVERLY RIDDEN BY WILLIAMS IS A WINNER

on Comilla yesterday, is under contract to Jack Kenna.

Convent Ball, who was carded to start in the second race, was withdrawn at the last moment.

Mitro was "two hours" the best horse in the second race yesterday.

Bookmaker Ed Soule said yesterday that he would like to see the association make up a sweepstakes between George G. Dolle, Miss Officious and Eudora. The popular bookie remarked that he would bet any amount that George G. would catch the 2000's eye first.

Those that played the Only Way made their way to the cars after the race.

AT ASCOT TRACK

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 8.—Yesterday's card at Ascot was made up of five selling races and a purse for three-year-olds non-winners at the meeting, and the public and bookies broke about even, as three favorites won. Goussard defeated Mitro by a head in the classiest event of the day. J. W. Black captured two races with Taylor George and Bonnie Reg, the latter being played from 2 to 1 to 13 to 1. Jockeys Wiley and Kooner each rode two winners. Wiley has not been officially announced, it is generally known that the Ascot meeting will be extended until April 1. The card was dropped, all parties having agreed on satisfactory terms, whereby R. E. Carman becomes owner of the entire stable owned by Walsh. Weather clear, track fast.

FIRST RACE—Selling; six furlongs; 12 to 1—Taylor George, 107. 4 to 1—Betsy, 102. 3 to 1—Sir Caxton, 101. 2 to 1—Sir Caxton, 101.

Start good. Won easily. Money Miss, Lord of Forest, John H. Caut, and Xanthus finished as named. Winner, J. W. Black's b. g. by Register-Nina George, Taylor in race form, in lead passing the half and held easily to the end. Must tread badly.

PREPARE FOR THE DANCE

Sophomore Class Committee Will Hold a Big Meeting Tonight.

BERKELEY, Feb. 8.—An effort will be made by the sophomore class of the university tonight to eclipse all previous efforts in the arrangements for the "Hop," the annual class dance.

Many innovations have been made by the committee in charge, the novel of which will be the serving of the refreshments.

Extensive preparations have been made for the lighting and decoration of the gym. The predominant color will be green, and unique electric effects will help to move the superb appearance of the hall. Refreshments will be served from the stage, and the orchestra, of which Paul Steindorff is leader, will play in the center of the hall.

The program cover, which was designed by W. B. Phillips, 69, will be engraved on a background of green. On the front will be an "O" and on the back a "P" in white. On the number 12 is a dancing clown outlined in black similar in design to the Hop poster.

The sale of tickets has come up to the expectations of the committee. Only a few more of the invitations remain and these will be on sale at the Co-op today. For the benefit of those who have been unable to secure them at any other time, a number of tickets will be sold at the door. Dancing will begin promptly at 9 o'clock and will be over by 1 o'clock. There will be sixteen regular dances on the program and at least four extras.

PHOTOGRAPH OF CALAVERAS SKULL

BERKELEY, Feb. 8.—Professor George Davidson has presented the University Library with a photograph of the Calaveras Skull. This skull was found in Calaveras during the early sixties. It was taken from the ground 127 feet below the surface and was beneath seven strata of lava and gravel.

On the back of the photograph is a diagram showing the relative width of the strata as well as the position of the skull when removed.

PROF. W. A. SHERMAN
THE DISTINGUISHED
PSYCHIC PALMIST & CLAIRVOYANT
469 10th St.

With unerring sight he gazes into the inner nature of things and reveals that which you most wish to know—if you will succeed in a new undertaking, make a change of business or of your life; if you have certain successful days, if your friends will return to you, will be amazed, astonished, mystified and dumfounded at the remarkable things he tells regarding those you are interested in. His powers are beyond belief.

"POWER TO CONTROL"

SHERMAN teaches you how to control any person you love, how to develop your magnetic force; through his secret instructions SCANDAL is avoided and SOCIAL REGRET is averted.

"We Don't Believe In Advertising"

Strange confession for a newspaper that carries over 58,000 inches of display advertising.

But it is true—we don't believe in advertising in these columns that are read in over 30,000 homes each day unless you state the truth.

If you have good values in Real Estate, Houses, Furniture, etc., state these facts here and they will soon find buyers.

The Way to Reduce is to Reduce

The large crowds which have been attending this ALTERATION CLEARANCE SALE are in no sense surprising. This entire city is aware from past experience that when the CALIFORNIA OUTFITTING COMPANY gets ready to reduce its stock it allows neither profit nor anything else to stand in the way. In the instructions to our salespeople we have said: "The point is to get the stocks down. Never mind the profit. The time for that is past. We are not backward when the time comes to reduce, and we do reduce in the full sense of the word, regardless of profit or anything else, or what others are doing—but get the stocks down. We are determined that no part of our immense stocks shall be carried over the season. We will open our enlarged store with an entire new spring line of

ROBBER FEARS CONVICT'S IRE

Crowhurst Placed on Stand—Is Reluctant About Stanley
Hold-Up.

James Crowhurst, the young man who is serving a term of seven years in the State's prison at Folsom for the robbery of Edward Stanley, was placed on the witness stand yesterday afternoon to testify concerning the assistance that Percy Pembroke gave in holding up the East Oakland barber. He was a very unavailing witness. The young convict, however, seemed to have only a very vivid memory of the happenings on the night of October 8, 1904, when the alleged crime was committed. He said Pembroke was with him in the holdup on East Fourteenth street, and explained to the jury how the revolvers were pointed at Stanley. Crowhurst could barely remember just what was said by the defendant in this case at the time of the robbery and for a time did not seem to know whether the October holdup was the one Pembroke and he participated in or not.

It is the standing order among prisoners in the penitentiaries that one convict is not to testify against another or divulge any secrets of any crime he was engaged in with a man who is on trial. Crowhurst probably fears the ire of the other convicts at Folsom which makes him so reluctant on the witness stand.

Crowhurst took the stand again this afternoon, to reveal more happenings in the holdup. The trial did not go on this morning, because Judge Murphy, who is on the bench in department five, had to fill the seat in department two.

District Attorney Brown claimed that testimony could be introduced to prove that the robbery for which Pembroke is being tried is the same offense that Crowhurst is now serving time for in the penitentiary.

Attorney Lin S. Church for the defense tried to reject the reading of the Stanley deposition in the preliminary examination in Justice of the Peace Geary's court because of technical points in the sworn statements of Miss Walsh, the court reporter who took the proceedings of the trial in the lower court several months ago. Judge Murphy overruled the objection and Deputy District Attorney W. H. L. Hynes read the cross-examination of Stanley, which related to the holdup. He said he was relieved of between $25 and $28 in silver and some keys.

GOOD WORK OF KNOWLAND

Secures Provision in Bill for Immediate Spending of $500,000.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—At the request of Representative Knowland, Chairman Burton of the rivers and harbors committee has changed the provisions of the bill so that $500,000 will be immediately available for the improvement of the Oakland harbor. The department has an unexpended balance of $189,000, and Knowland succeeded, in having this increased to $500,000.

WILL PROCEED WITH WORK

Western Pacific Will Go Ahead
With Plans to Build Wharves.

It is stated that the Western Pacific Railway will not wait for final action of the United States Supreme Court in the matter of the ownership of the water front, but basing its claims on the present decision, will proceed at once to erect its wharves and docks. As soon as Virgil G. Bogue, vice president and chief engineer of the Western Pacific, returns to this city, a force of men will be put at work upon the Oakland water front property of the Gould corporation, and the task of building the piers, ferry slips and freight docks at the outer end of the training wall will be started. There will be two ferry slips, one for freight and one for passenger traffic, which will be 500 feet each in length, although in the plans prepared by Howard B. Holmes for Chief Engineer Bogue but one of these slips is shown. The other slip will be immediately north and adjoining it. An arcade 1000 feet long will lead to the two ferry slips.

North of and adjoining the ferry slips will be a freight pier extending 2000 feet from the end of the slips. This pier will be of steel construction and the waters adjacent to it will be dredged so that even the Pacific liner can unload their cargoes directly into the freight cars of the Gould railroad.

Officials of the Western Pacific Company expect that the ferry slips and mole will be completed and ready for service within twelve months. The extensive freight yards, which the company will construct on its water front property, cannot be built until much filling and dredging has been done, but it is hoped that all this vast work will be entirely completed in two years and that the company's Oakland terminal will be completed in every respect by that time.

MARRIED FOUR DAYS AND DIES

After hovering between life and death the last few days, Willard C. Brunson the wealthy Shasta county miner who took as his bride Mrs. Hannah Wilson of Alameda, last Saturday on his deathbed, passed away last night about 8 o'clock at Providence hospital. Mr. Brunson had been stricken with apoplexy, and this, together with his old age, caused death. Brunson's bride of a few days had been a constant attendant at his bedside and last night she saw her husband's life ebb away. Mr. Brunson was seventy-two years of age. The aged miner knew he was going to die and so arranged to make Mrs. Wilson his wife. This marriage license was obtained and the ceremony was performed in the groom's room at Providence hospital by Justice of the Peace Geary.

Mr. Brunson has a nephew residing in this city. It is said that he has considerable wealth, having been successful in his mining operations in Shasta county.
